as Among Victims

REDFORD (Mich.) Nov. 3. (P)—Fifty-three miners are believed to have lost their lives when the bottom of a swamp, under which the Barstow mine had been extended, dropped into a shaft today. Deeper by recent heavy rain, the bottom of the swamp gave way and a section 300 feet long and 200 feet wide fell into the mine, trapping the men at work.

The cause of the disaster is believed to have been the fact that the mine had been extended into a swampy area, and the bottom of the swamp had been weakened by heavy rain.

A check by officials of the mine today revealed that fifty-three men were at the time of the disaster, all of whom are believed to have lost their lives. Seven bodies were found in the mine tonight.

W. E. Hill, a State mining inspector, and William Rippet, an official of the iron company, were among those trapped. They were inspecting the shaft at the time of the disaster.

TERRIFIC THUD HEARD

The disaster occurred shortly after 4 o'clock, this afternoon. Persons nearby heard a terrific thud as the huge section of mud and water fell into the pit. Rushing to the scene, they reported seeing the flood swirl about the first level and then force itself through the shaft to the next level.

The mine was flooded to the top level and the water was seen to be rising rapidly. The mine was flooded to the top level and the water was seen to be rising rapidly.

MANY STILL HOPE

Hundreds of persons were gathered at the mouth of the shaft tonight. In the darkness, many of the trapped men were seen to be waving their hands and shouting for help.

Power in Legislation to Radical Bloc

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (P)—The Democratic thrust in the off-year election has made certain insurgent control of the Senate and threatens the domination the Republicans have had over the House since the Coolidge landslide two years ago.

With the make-up of the Seventieth Congress virtually complete, the Democrats have captured seven of the nine places constituting the Republican majority in the Senate, thus leaving the balance of power there in the little group of insurgents elected under the Republican banner.

By taking thirteen seats so far from the Republicans in the House, the Democrats have brought about an alignment under which the insurgent group there might be able to take the upper hand in the working control of that body.

Besides the gains in Congress, the Democrats have won the governorships in two normally Republican States, South Dakota and Colorado, taking control of the highest office in South Dakota for the first time in a quarter of a century.

LOSE IN OREGON

On the other hand, the Democrats lost the Governorship of Oregon; are threatened with the loss of that in Wyoming and their candidates in Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico are finding the going anything but easy. The last Senatorial contest to be settled was that in Oregon, Steiwer, Republican, winning.

The Republicans also have returned Senators James E. Watson and Arthur B. Robinson in Indiana; Tasker in California; and Samuel M. Shortridge in California.

The Republican seat contested by former Gov. Street, of Colorado, apparently had been won by Charles W. Waterman, who had a lead of approximately 11,000 votes less than two weeks ago.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (P)—Of the nineteen women who aspired to join the three already in the House of Representatives, only one was successful.

She is Mrs. John W. Langley of Kentucky, wife of former Representative Langley, who is serving sentence in Federal prison for a conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

The three present women members were returned. Mrs. Florence P. Kahn, Republican, California; Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts; and Mrs. Mary T. Norton, Democrat, New Jersey.

Mrs. Ella Tamm, Sanford of Wisconsin, who was defeated by John J. Blaine, she ran as a prohibitionist.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3. (P)—The wets and the drys were as far apart today in their interpretation of yesterday's election as it reflected prohibition sentiment as they are on the actual issue.

In every State where the drys had a fighting chance, except Massachusetts, they won in the Senatorial contests, according to reports received at their headquarters, said Wayne B. Wheeler, of the Anti-Saloon League.

HUNT LEADS
BY EYELASHArizona Race in Hot FinishGovernor's Margin Only 117
Over Republican With Few Precincts OutRecount May be Necessary to Determine Result;
Hayden Far Ahead

PHOENIX, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—George W. P. Hunt appears to have been chosen for a sixth term as Governor of Arizona. As usual, he is at the tail of the Democratic ticket. With eleven precincts missing, he is leading E. S. Clark, Republican, by only 117 votes. Three of the precincts lacking are Agua Caliente, Sentinel and Morristown in Maricopa county, with a total of seventy-seven votes, most of them usually Democratic, so the final result is not likely to be changed. There is probability of a recount.

Gov. Hunt and the Democratic Central Committee are not quite sure of the accuracy of the count thus far, fearing duplication of the reports from several precincts. At headquarters, it is stated that the contest still may be a horse race.

Clark made his best gain in Maricopa county, which, including Phoenix, gave him a majority of 2300 over Hunt. Clark also carried Mohave, but one precinct against Hunt because of lack of Colorado River section, while a substantial majority was taken in Pima and Cochise counties.

HUNT SCRATCHED

With a Democratic registration majority of 45,000, Hunt was badly scratched by the conservative Democrats, resentful of alleged combinations against Hayden. It is claimed that Hunt received the vote of much of the Cameron faction and that this has taken him over. Much the same situation favored him two and four years ago.

Carl Hayden, Democrat, for Senator, appears to have at least 9000 plurality in the State over Senator Cameron, Republican, in Maricopa county, with three precincts missing. Hayden has a total of 14,113 to Cameron's 11,773. Douglas, Democrat, for Governor, has a State vote approximately that of Hayden over Baughn, Republican, and leads Baughn in this county by 1,200. Baughn's feature was that Hayden carried Pinal county, assuming a Cameron stronghold on account of the latter's claim to having secured San Carlos dam.

LOSERS FORMER HOME

Cameron also lost Cocino county, his former home. The gross vote in the State will be somewhat over 70,000 higher than had been expected. No Republican appears elected to State office.

The legislature will be overwhelmingly Democratic, as is usual, with Harlow Akers and Dan P. Jones, Democrats, elected to the State Senate from Maricopa. Only seven separate candidates for Sheriff, Jerry Sullivan, Democrat, having the lead over the Republican incumbent, two years ago Moore defeated Sullivan by about 5000 on a prohibition issue. One Republican county candidate appears elected, George T. Wilson, for County Attorney, leading his Democratic opponent by 100 votes.

COOLIDGE ON JOB TO HEAR
VOTE COUNTPresident Disappointed at Defeat of Senator Butler
in Massachusetts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3. (P)—President Coolidge attended to business as usual at the executive office today and made no public comment on the election, although White House officials were busy obtaining the latest figures from States where the contests still were in doubt.

While it was evident that the question of organizing the new Senate was occupying deep interest at the White House, Republican leaders expressed a note of gratification on their own advice which they said indicated that possibly not more than four or five Senate seats would be lost.

Although there was no comment from President Coolidge, there was no denial by his associates that he was keenly disappointed in the defeat of his close personal and political friend, Senator Butler, in whose behalf he made his only plea during the campaign and for whom he went to Massachusetts in person to vote.

Missouri's referendum was on the repeal of the State enforcement law. Such returns as were available today showed a majority of 100,000 against the proposal.

Illinois presented a question almost identical with that in New York. It was a proposal to petition Congress for modification of the Volstead Act to permit States to make their own definitions of what constitutes an intoxicating beverage. In Illinois, in 1917, the vote was 55,000 in favor of modification and 47,361 against it.

In New York, with some districts unaccounted for, but the State generally represented, the vote was 1,620,919 in favor of modification and 473,861 against it.

Colorado's proposal was for a law which does not conflict with the Federal law and repeal of the State law as at present. Little less than half of the State reported 64,401 in favor of the proposal.

Will Rogers Remarks:

DALLAS (Tex.) Nov. 3. [To the Los Angeles Times:] Butler of Massachusetts got his Presidential endorsement, but there is no salary connected with it. Poor Jim Wadsworth said why did the voters pick on me, he didn't endorse me.

I got just what I was praying for, a tie in the Senate. Now it will be worth listening to. Dollars may be corrupt but they beat endorsements in this or any other election.

Yours for high-price voters.

Election of W. E. Evans Heralded as Victory for Coolidge

CHORTLEIGH LEAD MOUNTS; JUSTICE CURTIS AHEAD

Regular Republicanism Triumph in Southern California Claimed; Beatty Downs Cogswell

The increasing lead of W. E. Evans, Republican nominee in the Ninth Congressional District, over his Democratic-Prohibition opponent, Charles H. Randall, which mounted during the count yesterday and last night, indicated that Mr. Evans probably will receive a plurality of more than 30,000.

Evans' lead was set at three to two, and the precincts where he was strongest had not been counted. This is construed as an outright Coolidge Republican victory, and the voters were not blinded by the "guttering promise" proposed by Randall in an effort to overturn the district's normal Republican majority.

Senator Shortridge also scored a Coolidge victory throughout the State, and last night he had attained nearly a two-to-one lead over his Democratic opponent, John B. Elliott, in Los Angeles.

Elliott made a good race in Los Angeles county, but last night's figures indicated that Senator Shortridge will be returned a winner in this county by more than 60,000. Observers predicted that his State majority will be close to 80,000. It appears likely that he will have a majority in each of the fifty-eight counties of California.

Revelations of the vote show that Senator Shortridge's polled nearly three times the number of Elliott's vote in Alameda county and nearly twice the number in San Francisco county. In general, throughout the State, his lead had approached two to one.

BEATY LEADS COGSWELL.
A hot fight developed in the First Supervisorial District, but in yesterday's count, Fred T. Beatty pulled ahead of Supervisor Cogswell, and with more than half the precincts counted, holds a comfortable majority over the incumbent Supervisor. Assemblyman Sidney T. Graves continues to hold the advantage in the Third Supervisorial District over Congressman A. J. Barnes, and appears to be a winner.

ELLIOTT LEADS WARDLE.
Democrats are closely watching the count of the vote between Wardle and Elliott. Wardle is a wet, is expected to be elected, and is expected to place him in the lead. Joseph McGinnis and Dr. L. Thornbury are behind Elliott, but McGinnis is expected to be elected, and is expected to place him in the lead. McGinnis is expected to be elected, and is expected to place him in the lead.

WADSWORTH TO TRY 1928 RACE

Senator's Defeat Fails to Suppress Ambitions

Plans Announced to Oppose Copeland, Democrat

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—Defeated at the polls yesterday in his race against Justice "Bob" Wagner for the United States Senate, James W. Wadsworth, Jr., according to reports here today, will run for the seat now held by Senator Copeland, Democrat, in 1928.

Discounting the disaffection of dry Republicans in New York State from Wadsworth to the woe of the Christian Anti-Saloon League Independent-Republican, as the cause of Wadsworth's rebuff, administration leaders here to-day are saying that the cause of Gov. Smith's immense popularity and credit to the State is the cause of Wadsworth's defeat.

Wadsworth is quoted as having said, "and if I can't beat Smith, I don't want to hold public office again."

However, it is pointed out that Wadsworth is not a man to be discouraged. He has been a member of the New York State Senate for many years, and has been a member of the United States House of Representatives for many years.

WET REFERENDA STILL UP IN AIR

Against repealing the present law and 33,642 in favor of it

Nevada's proposal was an endorsement of the national prohibition law as a failure and calling a convention to submit amendments to the Eighteenth Amendment. The results were about three to one against the prohibition law.

Such returns as had been reported from Wisconsin showed a vote of 214,537 in favor of 2.75 per cent beer with 73,262 against it. In some of the cities, the ratio ran as high as five to one for the prohibition.

In Montana, on a straight out proposal to repeal the State beer law, only 672 precincts out of the State's 1481 had reported today, but they stood 34,382 for repeal and 24,164 against.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (AP)—Wet and dry broke even in the House in filling the seats of their now more ardent champions—John Philip Hill of Maryland, recognized leader of the wet bloc, and William D. Upshaw of Georgia, outspoken dry.

Hill went down in defeat in seeking the Republican Senatorial nomination, but John McGinnis, who replaced him, is described as rivaling him for wetness. Upshaw was defeated in the primary campaign by Leslie J. Steen, and avowed dry.

FOUR KILLED IN STAGE BATTLE

Three Others Wounded

Siege Against Ambush

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (AP)—and three were wounded when a prison was turned into a battle ground by a mob of criminals attempting to shoot prisoners were killed, but before the mob could get away, the keeper, wounded another and shot the heart.

The dead: Michael (Red) McKenna, robber and assassin; Hyman Amburge, robber and assassin; Oliver Glantz, alias Oliver Berg, robber and assassin; and Jeremiah Murphy, prison keeper.

The wounded: Warder Peter Mallon, shot below the heart; Daniel O'Connor, prison keeper; and J. A. Studwell, shot in right hand.

Amburge and McKenna died in a hospital shortly after they were taken there in ambulances. Murphy and Studwell died in the prison yard.

The attempted escape resulted in the first riot at the prison in many years in New York. All available police officers were sent to the scene of the riot. Among the first to arrive was the emergency squad from headquarters, picked men armed with small arms, rifles, shotguns and gas bombs.

The streets surrounding the prison were cleared and police officers poured down at the ambushed prisoners from the windows of adjoining buildings.

It had been a quiet day in the prison and nothing was suspected when Berg sent word that he was feeling ill and wanted to see the prison physician.

He was taken to his cell on the eighth floor and while he was there, Amburge and McKenna also complained of illness. The keeper took them out of their cell and in an elevator down to the first floor.

The doctor's office is close to the main prison gate on Center street. When the doctor was standing by the gate with the key in his hand, as the men approached. Drawing a gun, the prisoners suddenly ran toward him.

"Open the gate or we'll croak you," one of them shouted.

"Go to hell," Lorch retorted and fired into the air. The prisoners were scattered and the doctor fled.

The first shots caused an uproar in the prison and Warden Mallon came running from his office by the gate. He started toward the prisoners and pitched forward with a bullet through his body.

The prisoners then ran to the center of the prison yard where there was a great pile of soft coal and dug out a pile of bricks. The riot was scattered and the prisoners were surrounded by police with drawn guns.

It was impossible for police to enter the prison yard without being shot down before ever seeing their quarry. So snipers armed with rifles were sent to upper windows of the criminal courts building, which is connected with the prison by the famous "bridge of signs" and of adjoining office buildings. From these vantage points, the prisoners using the coal pile as fortification could be seen. Heavy firing began. The prisoners ran from the coal pile and took cover under a curved wall.

This gave them temporary protection, but they were quickly spotted and firing resumed. In a clash when the prisoners were shot down.

Wisconsin—Fred R. Zimmerman, Republican.

Tennessee—Austin Peay, Democrat.

Texas—Dan Moody, Democrat.

Vermont—John E. Weeks, Republican.

Washington—Fred R. Zimmerman, Republican.

PLEA FILED BY MARTYR IN ALIMONY

Sam W. Reid Petitions Governor to Place Baby in "Decent" Home

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3. (P)—Sam W. Reid, known as the "alimony martyr," who has been held in the Willows, Glenn county, jail since July 27, 1925, for refusal to pay alimony, today appealed to Gov. Richardson to "take his baby daughter out of the hands of the court and place it in a decent home." Since his incarceration he has allowed his hair and beard to grow.

In his letter to the Governor, Reid said he is an ex-soldier who served in France, and that he is willing to support his infant daughter, but does not intend to pay $30 a month alimony to his wife, who, after she had obtained a divorce from him, married her former husband.

Reid delivered a tirade against Judge and jury, who he declared, had given him a "dirty, rotten deal."

Gov. Richardson advised Reid the matter was a purely judicial one, over which he had no control.

ATHENS, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—The Republican newspapers report from Saloniki that 300 unattached Royalist officers are forming a league to seize power in event of the success of the Royalists at the elections. This action follows the declaration of Premier Condylis that he will not give up power immediately after the elections, but will await the appointment of a President of the Chamber, exercising governmental powers in the meantime in the name of the revolution, which threw out the dictatorship.

FLAPPER GARB DEFENDED

DALLAS (Tex.) Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—Too many clothes and too little knowledge made grandmother a bad girl, or at least much naughtier than a modern granddaughter, according to Col. Edward Whit of this city, Salvation Army, southeastern division commander.

"They're sophisticated, certainly they are, these young ladies, and for that very reason they don't fall into the traps that their grandmothers, in innocence and swaddling clothes did," Col. White said. "We used to cover things up and think that no one knew anything about them, but now we uncover them and nobody pays any attention to them."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3. (P)—By proclamation, President Coolidge directed today that the flag should be displayed on all government buildings on Armistice Day, the 11th inst., and exercises designed to perpetuate peace through good will and mutual understanding between nations.

CONTROL GOES TO INSURGENTS

Brookfield of Iowa, Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, and John J. Blaine of Wisconsin, as well as several members of the House, the Farmers-Laborites one, and the Socialists one. Of the eight districts missing, four now are held by the Republicans, three by the Democrats and one by the Farmer-Laborites.

The Democrats made a gross gain of fifteen, all from the Republicans, but lost two to the majority party, leaving a net gain of thirteen. In addition to the two seats they took from the Democrats, the Republicans nominally gained one from the Socialists, but in that case Representative La Guardia of New York, now sitting as a Socialist, elected to run this time as a Republican.

REPUBLICANS WILL CARRY ON, SAYS PHIPPS

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. (P)—Republican losses of Senate seats in yesterday's election were mostly in States where local issues dominated the campaign, generally "can in no way be construed as party repudiation," Senator Phipps of Colorado, chairman of the Republican National Campaign Committee, said today.

"I am confident," he said, "that the Republican party will organize the next Senate. It is vastly important that it do so, for only through unified control can legislative programs be carried out. Frankly seeking the co-operation of the majority, we will attempt to continue our splendid record of legislative achievement established during the last five years of Republican control."

India Pact Ends Fear of Russian Grip on Border

LONDON, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—It is reported here that the new viceroy of India, Lord Irwin, has arrived at a friendly agreement with the Emir of Afghanistan, which puts an end to the fear of Russian influence on the borders of India.

It is understood that this agreement includes better trade facilities to Afghanistan and India, gifts of airplanes and tanks to the Emir, as well as facilities for the cheap purchase of railway and transport material and the renewal of the annual subsidy on a scale commensurate with the increased cost of military establishments.

MOSES SWIFT BY LARGE MAJORITY

MANCHESTER (N. H.) Nov. 3. (P)—By a majority which he characterized as unprecedented in an off-year election, United States Senator Moses, Republican, president pro tempore of the Senate, has been swept into office for his second year.

With only twelve voting districts missing in yesterday's election, he was returned a victor by 76,271 to 46,850 for his Democratic opponent, Maj. Robert C. Murchie.

Vote News Shows French Ignorance of United States

PARIS, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—France's amazing ignorance of United States politics is revealed conspicuously by comments on the results of the elections, some newspapers stating the voting decides whether America remains dry or goes wet, thus permitting French wines to find a market.

Generally the editorials are confused over what a Democratic victory means, as while they feel the Republicans lack sympathy with France because the Harding and Coolidge administrations sought to settle the war debts, they remember that Woodrow Wilson failed to put over the Versailles Treaty and guarantee pact. The articles agree that the White House and government is considerably weakened by the success of many Democrats, but they do not agree that this will influence the President's attitude toward debts and whether the new Senate will be more lenient.

STRIKERS LOSE DEFENSE MOVE

Confession Repudiation Admits Slush Fund Stories Based on "Reports"

Bay City Carpenter Says Pressure Was Applied

Suspect in Murder Case Abandons Mates

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—A vigorous effort of the defense to assail the confessions that led to the indictment of thirteen members of the carpenters' union for murder and assault was checkmated today after one of the admitted slugs in custody treated the inference that his confession was obtained under police duress.

Jack Kilrain, the second man to be arrested in last week's roundup of those accused of responsibility for industrial violence and admitted member of the gang that on October 21 attacked two union carpenters, kept both prosecution and defense in legal hot water during the greater part of the day.

HUNT'S CHARGES REST ON RUMOR

Admits Slush Fund Stories Based on "Reports"

Unable to Cite Instance of California Money

Denies Referring to Senate Candidates in Plaint

PHOENIX, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—Stories of an Arizona slush fund that had been referred to by Gov. Hunt before and during his campaign were based only upon rumor, common report, understanding, assumptions and street talk. This was admitted by the Governor himself when placed on the stand this afternoon. Though hardly audible at times, he gave frank answers to all questions that were propounded by Chairman King of the Senatorial Committee on Corruption Practices.

The Governor stated that, in a number of letters and statements cited, he mainly was referring to opposition to himself. He had intended no reference to the Senatorial situation and had not sought to connect either of the Senatorial candidates with his accusations. He had understood, however, that a powerful combination was under formation in California, directed against him because of his attitude on the Colorado River. When the Arizona executive named as enemies the Los Angeles Times, Harry Chandler and the Hearst papers, Chairman King expressed his interest and asked, "Were not you and Mr. Chandler in full accord on the Swing-Johnson bill? Both of you opposed it."

CHARGES ATTORNEY

His last move he credits to the influence of his mother, Mrs. M. L. Kilrain, and brother Peter who visited him in the jail dormitory after the hectic events of the early part of the day.

"They told me to do the right thing," said the defendant. "I finally decided I shall let my attorney not be John H. Thomson, retained for me by my brother. Coghlan is no longer to represent me."

The sudden shift of attorneys and intimations voiced by Kilrain led Captain of Detectives Matheson to seek and investigate to determine whether he was free on bail in the case of the defense and that therefore it did not merit public defender service.

"I am informed that Mr. Coghlan is to represent me," Kilrain told the court.

"Who so informed you?" demanded Asst. Dist. Atty. Skillen.

BEATING CHARGED

Kilrain evaded an answer but finally said that "Mr. Egan did."

Judge Lunderback then summoned Coghlan to court and Coghlan there formally accepted the commission to represent Kilrain.

"Since this man is now my client, I want him transferred to the County Jail," said Coghlan. "He has been mistreated in the city prison."

Turning to Kilrain Coghlan said: "Were you not beaten after your arrest?"

Kilrain nodded affirmatively. Later, after being returned to jail Kilrain suggested the nodded reply by naming two detectives he said had struck him in "some room in the Hall of Justice."

Kilrain was brought before Capt. Matheson and Skillen following the court affair and there said he would give an affidavit that no police officer had assaulted him.

The defense today undertook its expected move to obtain liberty for the murder defendants. Applications were made for writs of habeas corpus to be built in the cases of Archibald J. Mooney, vice-president of the United Order of Carpenters and Joiners; J. J. Clifford, business agent of Local No. 423; Christopher O'Sullivan, Sam Moore, Albert Moore and John J. Cannon.

TWO EXCLUDED

The applications did not include writs for Gus Madden and George Pesce, confessed participants in the slaying of C. W. Campbell, nonunion carpenter, on October 21, whose testimony before the grand jury resulted in murder indictments.

Another phase of the complex legal tactics involving the defendants occurs tomorrow morning in Department 12, Superior Court, where Judge Jamison of Modoc county will strain defendants under both the murder and assault indictments.

Amended indictments were voted by the grand jury today and returned to Presiding Superior Judge Fitzpatrick in the afternoon. The amendments were made necessary through clerical errors in the original indictments.

The county council of the American Legion today refused to undertake arbitration of the carpenters' strike and acted adversely on the plan initiated by Golden Gate Post of the order.

"The American Legion is an organization of men and women of all walks of life," said Eugene D. Bennett, commander of the county council. "It has been our policy to remain far from all industrial controversies."

The Public Spirit Club today adopted a resolution endorsing the action of the city's committee in urging a halt to industrial lawlessness.

SUSTAINING HIS DIGNITY

A theater manager once said to Mansfield, "I'll see you after the show." "After the show," repeated the actor with chilling dignity. "Are we acrobats?" "After the performance," corrected the other hastily. "The performance! Are we trained seals?" "Sorry," apologized the crushed manager. "I'll see you after the show, sir." "I shall be pleased to see you then," answered Mansfield. —(Boston Transcript.)

SURPRISE WITNESS STIRS HALL-MILLS DEATH TRIAL

Willie Stevens Identified as Man Asking Directions to Scene of Slaying on Fatal Night

SOMERVILLE (N. J.) Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—The Hall-Mills murder trial started off today with a surprise. After a jury had been selected in eighty minutes and Special Assistant Attorney Simpson had outlined his case, a man whose name never has figured in the two investigations of the murder was called to the stand as the first witness. He was John S. Dixon, a Wall-street auditor, who identified "Willie" Stevens as a man he had seen on the night of September 14, 1922, at 8:30 o'clock in North Plainfield, asking the direction to the Parker house, which is 500 yards from the scene of the Hall-Mills murders in De Russes's Lane.

Willie Stevens, his brother Henry and Frances Stevens Hall, one of the slain actors, are on trial jointly for the murder of Mrs. Eleanor Mills, chair leader of the Actors' Guild, who was shot in the back of the head by a man who was identified as the murderer of Dr. Hall, but the killing of Mrs. Mills was selected as the basis for the first trial. Henry Carpenter, Wall-street broker and cousin of Mrs. Hall, will give a separate trial.

DAUGHTER CAUSES STRIFE. Mrs. Dixon followed her husband on the stand to corroborate his testimony. Then came Charlotte Mills and a stir swept the courtroom as the daughter of the murdered woman took the stand.

Before the girl could be sworn Robert H. McCarty, chief of defense counsel, objected to her testimony.

"The logical and legal way to try a case of this kind is to first prove the corpus delicti and then to call the material witnesses," he argued.

"Miss Mills is a daughter of one of the murdered persons, but she knows nothing whatever about the crime." "I do not see that there is any ten-by-ten rule that requires us first to prove the corpus delicti," said Justice Parker. He finally permitted Miss Mills to testify. She began by "bursting into tears."

While Miss Mills was testifying Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman" who is expected to be the State's star witness, was sitting in the Sheriff's office, adjoining the courtroom, protected by police. She has been ill for some time, and evidently was nervous.

"Charlotte's on the stand now," some one said to one of the police-guarding Mrs. Gibson. The woman's hand clutched at her heart and she collapsed into the arms of Harry Linderman, a State policeman, and Joseph Hamilton, detective.

Dr. Cooper, her physician, was summoned and he said her condition was serious, aggravated by the nervous tension under which she has been laboring for the weeks and months of the investigation which has led to the trial.

When Mr. Dixon was called he was asked:

Q: Do you remember anything particular on the night of September 14, 1922?

A: Yes. A man called at my home at 8:30 and asked that he be directed to the Parker house (a home for the aged, about 500 yards from the scene of the murders).

Q: What else did he say to you?

A: That his sister had dropped him off at the Parker house and he wanted to get back there.

Q: Do you see him in court the man who spoke to you that night?

A: Yes.

Dixon was asked to designate that man, so he left the stand, crossed the space in front of the bench and touched Willie Stevens.

"This is the man," he said.

The witness said that he and Mrs. Dixon walked to the corner of North View avenue to make out the direction that he drew from his pocket the necessary carfare to take the inquiry to the Parker house, 14 cents, but Willie Stevens declined it.

State Senator Case of defense counsel sought permission to bring down Dixon's testimony. He asked the witness all about his household and his business connections in Wall street.

Dixon told Senator Case the visitor identified by him as Willie Stevens had suddenly appeared at the front screen door. There was no light in the hall, he said, but a dome light in the dining room disclosed to him a man entering through the screen door.

Q: What did you observe about this man?

A: I thought he had been drinking. He was greatly agitated. He was eager to get out of the neighborhood.

"THE GENTLE GRAFTER" Ralph Jones, an Indianapolis lawyer, tells this story at his own expense: Recently, he was employed to defend a man charged with issuing worthless checks. Jones and his client succeeded in convincing the judge and jury that the man was not guilty. He was discharged.

"How much is your fee?" the man asked Jones.

The attorney named the figure. The client wrote a check for the sum named and Jones accepted it. The next day he learned from the bank that the check was worthless. The signer never had had an account at that bank. Jones was told—[Indianapolis News.]

BELIEVE DRUG RING BROKEN

Chinese and Italians Under Arrest As Asserted
Members of International Gang

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—With the arrest of three Chinese and three Italians in this city as well as two men in Seattle and warrants out for men in San Francisco, Winnipeg and Montreal, mounted police and customs officials here believe they have at last got to the root of the largest drug-running gang in Canada and the Northern States.

At the head of the Chinese trio is ordered deported from the United States to Italy, but finally was permitted to return to Canada.

Two of the Chinese in the case are asserted to belong to the Madame of the Three Rings Society, an order for the collection and distribution of drugs from Hankow China, as this lady of Spanish, French and Chinese extraction visited here two years ago on her way to San Francisco and is reported to have made the residence of one of these Chinese her official headquarters here.

Madame of the Three Rings is as well known in drug-running circles as the "Gold Label" is known as the brand of the leading drug used in this country. The case will be heard Friday.

BUDGET TO BE YOUNG'S FIRST TASK

Road Cost to be Included;
Promises to Hold State
Expenses to Minimum

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3. (AP)—C. C. Young, Governor-elect of California, told newspaper men here today that his first goal will be a comprehensive budget, designed to contemplate every expenditure of State government.

"I expect to spend the next thirty days formulating this budget," he said. "I want to have it ready to submit to the Legislature as soon as possible after it convenes in January."

He explained that one of the major expenditures to be incorporated in the budget will be highway costs, which heretofore have been left out.

"At no time," he said, "have I charged that there was extravagance in the State government. I know in fact that the trend is inescapably upward. This is because the State is growing today faster than it ever has before. I can't say whether or not past expenditures in specific instances can be reduced, but as Governor I shall do what I can to keep increases as small as possible."

STOCKS FAIL TO RESPOND TO ELECTION

Wall Street Remains Calm
in Face of Ballot Results
With Dull Trade Opening

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (AP)—Wall street, judging by the action of the stock market today, took the election results calmly, neither showing any unusual elation by bidding up prices nor expressing any fears by hammering them down. Prices drifted lower in extremely dull trading during the morning and rallied briskly in the last hour with final quotations irregularly higher.

The day's price movement was not unlike that of most seasons in recent weeks, being governed largely by the speculative operations of professional traders.

The bond market, on the other hand, swung upward in impressive fashion, but the movement bore no relation to the results at the polls, reflecting, rather, the further reduction in time money rates and an unusually heavy fall investment demand for high-grade securities.

Strength of the French and Belgian government issues, several of which attained new peak prices for the year, was in response to the recent improvement in the economic outlook for those countries.

Republican of
Hawaii Wins
Congress Seat

HONOLULU, Nov. 3. (AP)—Democratic headquarters today conceded the election of Victor S. Houston, Republican, as delegate to Congress, over William Jarrett, who has been Hawaii's representative at Washington the last four years.

Early returns here and from other islands indicated Houston's victory. Incomplete returns gave him a lead of more than 2300 votes.

SENTENCES IMPOSED

PARTICIPANTS IN BATTLE OF MOSS
LANDING GIVEN PRISON
TERMS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3. (AP)—Sentences were imposed by United States District Judge Frank H. Kerrigan here today on eight members of a conspiracy to land large quantities of illicit liquor at Moss Landing, Monterey county, six of whom were found guilty October 29. The remaining two pleaded guilty.

Ed B. Ferris, charged with having operated a machine gun at the "Battle of Moss Landing" in which a Sheriff's posse engaged the rum-running gang, was given the heaviest sentence, he was ordered to spend two years in a Federal penitentiary and pay a fine of $10,000.

Paul I. Brokaw, supposed ring leader, was sentenced to two years and the payment of a fine of $5000. J. Herbert Madden, former Mayor of San Francisco, and Charles Bleu were each given two years. Eugene Cochler was given eighteen months and Lawrence Tillotson six months in the San Francisco and Santa Cruz county jails, respectively.

Fred Williams and John B. May, who pleaded guilty, were given eighteen months and three months, respectively, in the San Francisco County Jail.

Notice of appeal was filed for Brokaw, Madden, Cochler and Bleu, and they were released on $5000 bonds each.

Bookmakers of England Refuse Bets on Races

LONDON, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—The bookmakers threw dismay into the turf followers this afternoon when in order to protest against the betting tax they declined to do business at the Windsor races. The organized bookmakers also resolved not to do business at tomorrow's races. As a result, all bets were off today and, for the first time in English history, the newspapers publish the results without the usual betting odds.

According to Ross, whose business it is to calculate such things, the 1927 odds will be thirteen to one against a man finding a wife in this State, whereas the odds will be only seven to one against a woman finding a husband next year.

Other odds are listed by Ross as follows: Fourteen and three-tenths to one against a single man seeking a wife for the first time and eight to one against a single girl annexing a husband for the first time. Widowers, thirteen and eight-tenths to one and widows, nine to one.

Ross's quotations are based on the marriage for 1926, which present a rate of seventy-two and two-tenths per 1000 among men and 117 per 1000 for women.

The marriage rate for divorced men is 258 per 1000 and for single women marrying divorced men, 113 per 1000.

ODDS AGAINST SINGLE MEN

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—L. E. Ross, chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Board of Health, has the quotations on California's 1927 marriage market all figured out for those who might be in the field for mates.

According to Ross, whose business it is to calculate such things, the 1927 odds will be thirteen to one against a man finding a wife in this State, whereas the odds will be only seven to one against a woman finding a husband next year.

DRY OFFICER UNINTENTIONAL
CARRIER OF ILLICIT ALCOHOL

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—Maj. Chester P. Mills, New York prohibition administrator, has confirmed a story of how he unwittingly became a party to the interstate transportation of forty-three gallons of beverage alcohol from a Brooklyn garage to his home in Green Farms, Ct., recently.

Maj. Mills about two weeks ago requested one of the many seized cars, which the government keeps stored in warehouses after they have been forfeited under the Prohibition Act for running liquor, be placed at his disposal. The request went through the regular channels and in due course a sedan was assigned to him. He had two agents drive the car to Green Farms and place it in the family garage.

The next morning Mrs. Mills telephoned informing him that the car was "full of alcohol." Suspicion was some sort of frame-up, the dry had intelligence-unit investigators put on the case. They found the alcohol concealed in cans wrapped in newspaper dated August 5, 1925, and secured in the rear-seat upholstery from which the springs and padding had been removed. The investigators filed a report exonerating Mills and his agents.

Rosenberg at Last Puts Up Bantam Title

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Harrassed by the New York and Chicago Boxing Commissions because of his failure to defend his bantamweight championship Charley (Phil) Rosenberg took the bull by the horns today and agreed to fight Bushy Graham, Utica challenger, in the new garden, fifteen rounds, on January 7.

Jess McMahon clinched the match. Graham accepted the bout some time ago. Both Rosenberg and his manager, Harry Segal, signed the contracts. It is up to the local unions to approve the match. Rosenberg and Segal will appear before the board next Tuesday and ask for forgiveness. They will be accompanied by McMahon.

While he is about it, Rosenberg will apply for reinstatement and also for permission to engage in three tune-up matches. As a guarantee of good faith that he will go through with the Graham bout after his barnstorming trip is concluded, Rosenberg will offer to deposit with the commission his earnings, from the three bouts to be held in escrow.

Feminine Golf Champs Spring Feature Upsets in Annual Club Invitational Event

BY BILL WISE

Mrs. Harry Pressler, of Hacienda, ambled around Wilshire yesterday, and uncorked enough airtight golf to defeat Mrs. Gregg Lufur, of California, Southern champ, 2 and 1, in an interesting second-round match, of the women's annual club invitational, that opened Monday.

Mrs. Pressler was yards in front, she dropped a short putt for a five off of every tee and conducted herself like a veteran, grabbing an early lead and continuing on the inside, while Mrs. Lufur challenged through every hole, but yesterday's winner refused to waver, shooting a 6 on the pin on all occasions—playing very deliberately and was entitled to her match. Mrs. HARRY GROSSMAN, trailing one down at the turn, started a drive that Miss Anne Webster, of Hollywood, was unable to head—and the Hillcrest star stroked perfectly to collect a slender 1-hole lead that won the match when

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

AS A graduate of the University of California, a resident of Southern California and a member of the clergy, Earl P. Cochran, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Orange, feels he is unbiased enough to offer a few pertinent remarks about last Saturday's thriller between Stanford and the U.S.C. football teams. Inasmuch as the reverend brother observed that his profession was pretty well represented in Saturday's throng, he writes that he does not feel amiss in pausing a few minutes in preparing a sermon to make some observations on a great football game.

He says that probably no team in the country could have stopped the U.S.C. eleven in the first two periods, but that the ease with which they ran up the first two touchdowns brought on a fatal indifference and that Stanford eventually won out because of Stanford spirit. He expects this statement to be challenged, but he goes on to point out that he considers Stanford spirit superior to that at both California and U.S.C. because of a geographical situation. This is what he says:

"Stanford won because of Stanford spirit. That statement will cause a howl of protest, because it seems to imply that that ingredient is lacking in the U.S.C. squad. But that is not the implication. However, the writer has more than once seen a superior California team take a licking from an inferior Red delegation. I am convinced that such a spectacle

WHEELER REPLACES HEISER AS REGULAR HALFBACK ON VARSITY

Harold Wheeler, a transfer to the University of Southern California from Phoenix, will more than likely be a regular halfback on the Trojan varsity for the remainder of the season.

HOWARD JONES

Wheeler replaced Bert Heiser at inside half in the Stanford game, and so impressed Coach Howard Jones that he is being used there regularly in the practices going on this week at Boward Field. Jones stated after last night's practice that he believes Wheeler to be a hard hitter and possessed of the stuff to make good his chance to win a regular berth.

The Trojans went through a light workout yesterday, concentrating themselves with ironing out the details of some new plays being prepared for the struggle with the Oregon Aggies at Portland Armistice Day. There was no scrimmage, the players just running through their parts of each play slowly to show Coach Jones that each man knows what he is to do.

The foreman of the Thundering Herd announced that he intends to start building for next year's eleven. Jones is grooming Jesse Hilde, who is now a tackle, for the running-guard berth that will be vacated when Brice Taylor graduates. John Fox, who was given a chance at center and failed to show Jones much on the defense, is going to be moved to

Schikat and Jones Wrestle to Draw at Olympic Auditorium; Russell Vis Downs Rival

Richard Schikat, 220-pound German wrestler, and Paul Jones, 197-pound southern grappler, wrestled two hours to a draw in their best-two-out-of-three match at the Olympic Auditorium last night. Both wrestlers won one fall, but in the last twenty minutes before the limit was up, neither was able to clamp on an effective hold. The bout was rather slow.

Schikat gained the first fall after 1h. 3m. 15s of indifferent wrestling, with a crotch and half-nelson. Before that time the bout was fairly even, although Schikat, by virtue of his twenty-three-pound weight advantage, appeared to be the stronger.

After the intermission Jones rallied to take the second fall in 33m. 5s. The hold was announced as a "figure four, scissors and arm lock," that may, or may not, mean anything to the cash customers. At any rate, Jones seemed to climb aboard his

WARNER MAY SHIFT LINE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Palo Alto) Nov. 3.—(AP)—The varsity and freshman football teams went through a hard workout today, the varsity preparing for the Santa Clara game Saturday and the yearlings putting on the finishing touches for their big game of the season with the California freshmen at Berkeley the same day.

Cosch Glenn (Pop) Warner, feeling that the team should function better than it did last week when it defeated the University of Southern California, has indicated that he may make one or two changes in the line. As a result of his five play against the Trojans, Ronald Selman, huge sophomore tackle, may displace the veteran Paulson.

Morality to Take Over Job as Tiger Leader

DETROIT (Mich.) Nov. 3. (P)—The tocsin has sounded for Ty Cobb. After twenty-one years of brilliant baseball, the Georgian, wearying of constant criticism for his failure to develop a pennant-winning club, resigned today as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

George Moriarity, the American League umpire who made his baseball reputation as third baseman for the Detroit team, will be the new manager. His selection was announced today by President Frank J. Navin.

Cobb left for his Augusta (Ga.) home immediately after tendering his resignation. Friends, however, said that Cobb will devote his entire time to varied business interests (he is generally reputed to be the wealthiest of the baseball players) and will not don a uniform for at least a year.

FANS SURPRISED

The announcement came as a distinct surprise to Detroit fans. Cobb has been severely criticised, especially in the past two years, for his management of the Tigers. Many fans have called loudly for his managerial ouster. Other boys have mingled with cheers in the past two years when he took his turn at bat or trotted in from center field to argue with an umpire.

But Cobb has remained, devoting all his baseball skill and smartness developed by twenty-one years of major-league play, to giving Detroit the best ball club he could.

Disension was often reported on the club. This player and that player were said to be unable to "get along" with Cobb. His handling of pitchers was objected to by many.

During the 1926 season when the team dropped low in the standings, attendance began falling off. Circus bleachers which were needed in other

Loss Cripples Team for Game With California

SEATTLE, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—Four members of the University of Washington varsity were suspended from the squad this afternoon by Head Coach Elmer Bagshaw for violation of training rules. Bill Wright, guard; Bob Shaw, guard; Pat Wilson, tackle; and Louis Tesreau, halfback, were ordered to turn in their suits and did not participate in practice. According to meager reports, as Bagshaw has not yet released an official statement, the men will not be allowed to return to the Washington squad this season.

It is the first time in recent history that a University of Washington athlete has been dismissed for violation of the training code.

The loss of this quartet of football men—the real backbone of the purple-termed during the present season—produced a shock equivalent to any earthquake that could have happened in the Pacific Northwest gridiron section. Wright, Shaw and Wilson were all members of Washington's 1925 championship team and they have been holding forth regularly on the line so far this season. Tesreau is one of the greatest punters the Washington team has ever had and his plunging work has been above the ordinary.

The loss of this quartet is a mighty blow to Washington's hope of victory over California on Saturday. Their loss would also dampen any hopes the Huskies might have entertained of defeating Stanford and Nebraska later this year.

FINANCES AND MERGERS OF GANGS LEAD TO WAR

O'Bannon's Attempt to Become Chicago's "King of Crime" Ends Fatally

(This is the fourth article on super-gang rule in Chicago detailing the city's mob warfare for control of vice, gambling and rum-running.)

BY J. P. GALLAGHER,
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—When Dion O'Bannon, now the leader of a powerful North Side mob, went after Johnny Torrio's crown as "king of crime," he had, by the rather persuasive use of automatics, merged three gangs under his generalship. His chief lieutenants were Earl (Hymie) Weiss, George (Bugs) Moran and Louis Alterie.

O'Bannon lost no time in making Genna got rid of O'Bannon—whose coat had not yet been calculated by the ship's auditors.

The feeling became tense and soon assumed a radical aspect. Genna's meeting among his Sicilian alcohol cooks, a fervent dislike for O'Bannon and his aides. In Chicago there was just one influence strong enough to prevent bloodshed—not the police, the Cicero authorities, nor the State's Attorney's office—but Mike Merlo, president of the Unione Siciliano and friends of the principals. Just when O'Bannon's reign over the $30,000 had become most poignant, Mike Merlo died.

O'BANNON CALLED
O'Bannon was called down to his office (he ran a floral shop as a blind at 738 North State street) to discuss the floral decorations for Merlo's funeral. O'Bannon answered the summons and met Jim Genna, Carmine Vacco and a person—unknown to all concerned—who later appeared in the police reports as "Pete."

There was nothing sinister in the meeting of $30,000 even by a Genna. The conference was concluded. At noon, however, "Pete" came back with three unidentified men and was greeted by O'Bannon in cheerful friendliness. "Pete" took O'Bannon's hand and held it in a grip of steel while the others carefully shot Dion full of holes.

The war was on in earnest now. Hymie Weiss called a general conference. The orders were to "get" Torrio first. That celebrity heard of it. There were more than 100 members of the Weiss gang, men whom Torrio knew and could shoot straight. The results were so unbelievable that the police refused to mention them in the reports. A machine-gun clip was emptied through a window near the ceiling of the barroom. It shattered the mirror and wounded three customers.

The suggestion that an automatic rifle had been used in the operation was scoffed at by the detectives. But "Spiker" O'Donnell did not stop to argue with the obdurate authorities. He hurriedly effected an offensive and defensive alliance with Scarface Al Capone, acting for Torrio. The value of the treaty in the light of later events seems to be debatable.

COMPOSITION OF
GLASS EXPLAINED
Glass consists, generally speaking, of a mixture (rather than a compound, as there is difficulty in determining the molecular composition of the constituent silicates), of two or more silicates united by fusion into a homogeneous, hard, brittle mass. The nature and molecular composition of these silicates determines the variety or nature of the glass, according to the proportion of the base or bases associated with the silica.

Silica (formed the dioxide of silicon, SiO₂) predominates as the essential element of virtually all manufactured glass. Combined with the silica are such bases as potash, soda, lime and lead. The bases may be termed alkalis, and are, with the exception of soda, lime, etc., as an example. Flint glass is composed of silica, potash and lead; or silica, lime and soda; a double silicate in which the silica is fused, but are simultaneously fused together by a double though continuous process without any break in its continuity, by being mixed and charged, and then fused to completion in the pot or furnace of the glassmaker.—(Jewelry Circular.)

MANHATTAN BEING BUILT OVER AGAIN
New York is being "built over again," and, thus far this year 16,000 street openings have been authorized for installation of electric light, gas, telephone and water in new buildings, Julius Miller, president of the borough of Manhattan, said recently. The repaving of streets and the widening of avenues, in the face of unprecedented building activity, have given him the heaviest task of his administration, Miller added. For 1926, he said, building to the value of $400,000,000 has been begun or will be completed in Manhattan.

A GLOW WORM CAVERN
A marvelous glow worm cavern has been discovered in the bush country of Auckland near Te Kuiti. It is only in the caverns of New Zealand that the peculiar form of living light, known as the glow worm, has been found. These caves are lime-stone caves formed by running water, and the Waikato River courses through their depths. To visit these formations the sightseer goes in a boat. Entering the first passages, torches and lights of various kinds are made use of in order to reveal the wonderful colorings and shapes of the formations. Presently all lights are put out and the tourists are cautioned to make no noise and the craft enters a cave where one realizes that the interior is not quite dark. It seems that there are thousands of points of light on the walls and ceiling of the cave which are the glow worms.

PITTSFIELD (Mass.) Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—Henry Webb, 31 years of age, of Otis, attended his first film show in the Lee Town Hall the other night. He got an early start, as he never sleeps after 5 o'clock and very often is up long before that hour. He made the trip by team, a distance of fifteen miles, and got a real kick out of the picture, which featured Pola Negri.

Dr. Corwith and the carpenter's daughter were married here several days ago and are now honeymooning. The physician had lived alone for fifteen years following the death of his wife. Until he was called in to attend the girl who is now his bride, he had never thought of marrying again. Dr. Corwith maintains: "It was a case of love at first sight, and we both forgot all about our ages," he explained to friends.

Soon after I entered school my brother took me to the public baths with the intention of teaching me to swim. Writes George Broadhurst in the Saturday Evening Post of his youth in England. He jumped off the springboard and swam about to prove to me how easy and what fun it was. Then he told me to jump from the board into the water. "I was a case of love at first sight, and we both forgot all about our ages," he explained to friends.

HALT PLOT TO EJECT DE RIVERA

French Police Arrest 100
Italians and Spaniards as Conspirators

PEPPERMAN (France) Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—A formidable revolutionary plot to overthrow not only the regime of Gen. Primo De Rivera, Premier of Spain, but the monarchy, has been frustrated by the vigilance of the French police.

Some 400 Italian and Spanish anarchists are said to have been connected with the plot. Of these 100 now are under arrest. The aim of the conspirators, it is asserted, was to rouse Catalonian home rule adherents, believing that the movement, once started in Catalonia, would rapidly spread to the rest of Spain.

The former Spanish Deputy, Col. Francisco Macias, is said to have been the head of the movement.

Anderson Will Continue
Tactics of Predecessor in War on Rum Trade

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—W. W. Anderson arrived in San Francisco from Los Angeles today to take up his duties as acting prohibition administrator for Northern California and Nevada, succeeding S. I. Johnson, whose resignation was accepted Tuesday by Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury Andrews.

"As my predecessor seems to have been getting results," said Anderson, "I will follow his methods without making any changes, at least for the present. My position is a temporary one and there will be no reorganization of the department."

"I hope I can have the same co-operation of State and county as did Col. Johnson. Even if it should develop that the California prohibition law has been repealed, all State and county officials are sworn to uphold the Federal Constitution of which the Eighteenth Amendment is a part. I am succeeding a man who is well liked locally and by the authorities in Washington."

Anderson is undecided as to whether he will continue Johnson's practice of turning over to Chief of Police O'Brien complaints regarding bootlegging in San Francisco.

Johnson will remain at his desk for a few days acquainting Anderson with the duties of the office. Then Johnson will take up his post with the Industrial Association.

RUSSIA PLANS TO RAISE

TEHERAN, Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—In order to be independent of American cotton, the Moscov government has decided to dam the Aras River, dividing Persia and the Caucasus and irrigate Caucasian lands so that they will be suitable for cotton-growing. Russia has asked Persia to share the cost of construction—Persia needing the irrigation for similar purposes. The soviet government is paying particular attention to cotton culture, especially in Turkistan. There has been a heavy fall in cotton prices here.

TEXAS KILLINGS AROUSE MEXICO

Inspired Editorials Score American Policy

Action on Behalf of United States Contrasted

Executive's Evasive Reply Bitterly Criticized

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 3. (Exclusive) Both Excelsior and El Universal published editorials, considered "inspired" and expressive of the government's sentiment on the subject of the reply of Gov. Ferguson of Texas to the State Department concerning the investigations asked by Mexico into the murder of several persons at Raymondville, Tex., claimed as citizens by Mexico.

Mexico's note asked the apprehension and punishment of the slayers of the Nunez family, who were among the Raymondville dead, and was presented about the time the United States made a similar request of Mexico when Jacob Rosenthal was killed.

"For the hundredth time we are faced with a case of notorious injustice on the part of the United States toward Mexico," says Excelsior.

DRAWN PARALLEL

The editorial admits that abuses, robberies and crimes have been committed in Mexico, then points out that greater and more daring criminal acts have been committed in the United States.

It adds that it is customary to comply with the request of the United States for the punishment of criminals who have killed or attacked Americans.

It cites as an example the prompt action in the Rosenthal case by the Mexican authorities, who conducted active pursuit of the bandits and executed a number of those guilty.

Then it is pointed out that the Raymondville murders were committed more than two months ago and that Gov. Ferguson has just replied to a 200-page report that it has not yet been established if the victims were Americans or Mexicans.

Comment is made that this merely leads to long and dilatory negotiations between the governments, which may end in an accumulation of unsatisfactory notes, with the responsibility for the killings never being established.

Texas justice is then attacked and the editorial ends with the statement that the Raymondville incident is a disgrace to the United States and that it stands as an example of the treatment accorded Mexico by the strong American nation.

COMPLAINT OF DELAY

Universally editorial is milder, but especially compares the time Gov. Ferguson allowed to lapse before making her report with Mexico's quick action in the Rosenthal case, and points out that it has been impossible to establish the guilt in the Raymondville lynching.

It is declared that Mexico has the right to ask for the same protection for her citizens in the United States as the United States and European nations ask for their citizens here.

The article concludes with a bitter "yellow journalism" in the United States and degrading motion-picture scenes which always picture Mexicans as bandits and savages.

Here in Texas, in New York and elsewhere in the world, the editorial says, there are bound to be "explosions of bad instinct," adding, "but we are able to state that lynching, which is one of the most cowardly methods of crime, is not counted among our delinquencies."

The editorial also blames the American people for this injustice, but places the blame on the policy adopted by the American government in such cases.

Look Younger

WAKE up your sleeping youth! Look younger! Be younger! Age has little to do with your looks or your feelings. It's the condition of your blood that counts!

And blood will tell! It tells in a hundred ways. If your system is starving for rich, red blood, you may look and feel old at thirty. But if you build up the red-blood-cells with S. S. S. you'll quickly see the wrinkles fade away—the sagging pouches give way to firm, solid flesh—and the fresh, glowing beauty of youth take the place of a skin sallow and disfigured with blemishes.

Rich, red blood means youth, vim and energy! S. S. S. helps Nature build red-blood-cells by the millions. For generations S. S. S. has been keeping people looking and feeling young.

Fresh, cleansing, purifying, rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build, nourishes every muscle, organ and tissue of the body. Pimples, blotches and black heads disappear. Soils, eczema and asides dry up. Your face—your body—your whole being shines on the look and power of youth. Wake up your system with S. S. S. Build red blood and you rebuild youth! Get S. S. S. from any druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

DRAWN PARALLEL

The editorial admits that abuses, robberies and crimes have been committed in Mexico, then points out that greater and more daring criminal acts have been committed in the United States.

It adds that it is customary to comply with the request of the United States for the punishment of criminals who have killed or attacked Americans.

It cites as an example the prompt action in the Rosenthal case by the Mexican authorities, who conducted active pursuit of the bandits and executed a number of those guilty.

Then it is pointed out that the Raymondville murders were committed more than two months ago and that Gov. Ferguson has just replied to a 200-page report that it has not yet been established if the victims were Americans or Mexicans.

Comment is made that this merely leads to long and dilatory negotiations between the governments, which may end in an accumulation of unsatisfactory notes, with the responsibility for the killings never being established.

Texas justice is then attacked and the editorial ends with the statement that the Raymondville incident is a disgrace to the United States and that it stands as an example of the treatment accorded Mexico by the strong American nation.

COMPLAINT OF DELAY

Universally editorial is milder, but especially compares the time Gov. Ferguson allowed to lapse before making her report with Mexico's quick action in the Rosenthal case, and points out that it has been impossible to establish the guilt in the Raymondville lynching.

It is declared that Mexico has the right to ask for the same protection for her citizens in the United States as the United States and European nations ask for their citizens here.

The article concludes with a bitter "yellow journalism" in the United States and degrading motion-picture scenes which always picture Mexicans as bandits and savages.

Here in Texas, in New York and elsewhere in the world, the editorial says, there are bound to be "explosions of bad instinct," adding, "but we are able to state that lynching, which is one of the most cowardly methods of crime, is not counted among our delinquencies."

The editorial also blames the American people for this injustice, but places the blame on the policy adopted by the American government in such cases.

NORTH POLE PLANE HERE TOMORROW

Polar Airship Scheduled to Land at Clover Field; Bennett to be Honored

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 3.—Pilot by Lieut. Floyd Bennett, the Fokker monoplane in which Commander Byrd made his North Pole flight is scheduled to arrive at Clover Field, Santa Monica, at 4 p.m. tomorrow. Bennett was chief pilot for Byrd on the famous expedition.

Bennett is expected to remain for two days and it is planned to have the plane on exhibition at Clover Field Saturday and Sunday.

Bennett's plane is expected to descend within a short distance of the place where the around-the-world flyers alighted two years ago.

It is planned to have a welcoming committee, including Mayor Croyer of Los Angeles, Mayor Michael of Santa Monica, officers of the Los Angeles and Santa Monica-Ocean Park chambers of commerce and army and reserve officers.

Saturday noon Bennett will be the guest of honor and speaker at a luncheon at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. That night he will appear in a similar role as the guest of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce at the Edgewater Club. He carries the log of the North Pole flight and will speak on his experiences.

The Byrd plane, the Josephine Ford, has been unaltered except for the substitution of regular landing gear for the skis used in taking off at Spitzbergen.

Speakers at the Los Angeles luncheon will include Bennett, Charles Kunkel, representative of the Gugenheim Aviation Foundation; Dr. Robert A. Millikan, president of the California Institute of Technology; Donald E. Keyhoe, and Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, manager of the department of aeronautics and meteorology of the Chamber of Commerce.

The plane is making a tour of the principal cities of the nation in the interest of aviation and the furtherance of the transporting of mail, passengers and express by airplane.

Admittance to the Los Angeles luncheon is by reservation only. Tickets for the event may be obtained at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Army Judge Rules in Case of Fort Houston

Commerce Across Boundary Held Interstate

Question Raised by Gasoline Tax of Texas

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—Fort Sam Houston may be defined as an independent State, bordered on two or three sides by the city of San Antonio and on the rest of its frontier by Bexar county.

In the opinion of the Judge-Advocate-General of the Army it has been pronounced "a political unit governing and being governed as such," and shipments of goods from Texas to the army post are classed as interstate commerce.

QUESTION RAISED

The question as to the status of Fort Sam Houston, Kelly I. and other army posts in the Eighth Corps Area was placed before the Judge-Advocate-General by Lieut. Col. F. E. Blackburn of the Eighth Corps Area, Judge-Advocate's office, in regard to the right of Texas to collect a 1-cent tax on gasoline bought by the Army from Texas wholesalers and also gas and electricity bought from the San Antonio Public Service Company.

The Judge-Advocate-General ruled that Texas has no authority to collect the tax on the ground that it is interstate and not intrastate commerce, and recommended that steps be taken to obtain a refund where the tax has been paid.

Col. Blackburn's contention that Fort Sam Houston occupies the same status to the State of Texas as the District of Columbia in relation to its control by the Federal government, even though it is wholly within the State, was adopted by the Judge-Advocate-General. The ruling is in line with a recent statement issued by Col. Herbert A. White, Judge-Advocate-General of the Eighth Corps Area, in which a warning was issued to any officers that they are not residents of Texas while serving on a military reservation in the purview of Texas divorce statutes.

The opinion also is in line with the Texas constitution, which denies the ballot to members of the military establishment.

During the past fiscal year 220,380 gallons of gasoline were purchased for the Army by Col. E. H. Rolfe, quartermaster supply officer at the Eighth Corps general area depot.

The State collected or is attempting to collect the 1-cent tax on all this and other gasoline purchased by the Army since the law went into effect.

GIRL OF SEVEN BURIED ALIVE IN OPEN TRENCH

HAVERHILL (Mass.) Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—Seven-year-old Mary Sanchez was buried alive here and Tony Montisanti, a 30-year-old laborer, narrowly escaped a similar fate when a sewer trench collapsed. The girl, en route home from school, lost her life when some other school girls playfully pushed her into the trench and then fled. The accident was the second of its sort during the day in this city.

CRISIS LOOMS IN LATIN AMERICA

Troops and Rifles to Be Sent to Nicaragua

Liberal Party Needs Guns and Ammunition

Neighboring Countries May Interfere

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Nov. 3. (Exclusive)—The situation here is approaching a serious international problem. The Mexican government, commanding the liberal (revolutionary) troops is preparing to dispatch to Nicaragua twenty generals, together with 10,000 rifles and machine guns, anticipating putting in Julia B. Sanchez who was Vice-President under President Don Carlos Salazar and ousted by Gen. Emiliano Chamorro, as President under Mexican influence.

The liberal party needs only guns and ammunition, when nearly half of Nicaragua will arise in its support, putting out the administration. The liberals here, consisting of the middle and lower classes, are leaders and members.

Yesterday 4000 rifles were landed at Cape Gracias, with machine guns and ammunition. The liberals anticipated the Mexicans bringing more. Gen. Mora is camped in a sympathetic locality, preparing to attack the government forces at Rama, later advancing to the Liberal stronghold at Leon, where thousands of Liberals are camped.

The President of Honduras, nominally a Conservative, expects a double crossing by his party, which really is supporting President Calles, who is preparing to arrange to send troops to Nicaragua via Fonseca Bay, while Salvador and Costa Rica are leaving the opposite direction, leaving Mexico and Guatemala supporting the Nicaraguan Liberals, meaning the fastest Central American complication in years.

Naval units patrol the entire coast, and Washington has notified the troublemakers to cease, otherwise the government of the United States will use force to maintain the status quo with Mexican support will mean the demoralization of the recognized Conservatives.

Provisional President Uria is designing to retain power, probably opposing the candidate backed by the United States, Adolfo Diaz.

Una Mujer Misa que Entra al Congreso

NUEVA YORK, Noviembre 3.—De las diecisiete mujeres que aspiraban a reunirse con las tres que ya existen en la Cámara de Diputados, solo una tuvo éxito en la lucha electoral.

Se trata de la señora John W. Langley, de Kentucky, esposa del senador Langley, que fue diputado, y se halla hoy purgando una condena en un presidio federal, por haber conspirado para violar la ley de prohibición nacional.

Las tres señoras que ya ocupaban curules en la cámara, son, la señora Florence P. Kahn, republicana de California; la señora Edith Nourse Rogers, republicana de Massachusetts, y la señora Mary T. Norton, demócrata de Nueva Jersey.

La señora Ella Tenney Sanford, de Wisconsin, aspiraba a un asiento en el senado; pero fue vencida por John J. Blaine. La señora Sanford luchó del lado de la prohibición.

El Presidente Contrariado por la Derrota de su Amigo Butler

WASHINGTON, Noviembre 3.—El Presidente Coolidge atendió hoy a sus habituales ocupaciones en las oficinas del Ejecutivo, y no hizo comentarios públicos acerca de las elecciones, no obstante que los funcionarios de la Casa Blanca estaban atareados computando las últimas cifras de la votación en algunos estados, que todavía están en duda.

Si bien se veía claramente que la cuestión de organizar el nuevo senado tenía preocupado al personal de la Casa Blanca, los líderes republicanos se manifestaban contentos de las últimas noticias que habían recibido, que indicaban, en su sentir, que uno u otro partido probablemente sino uno u otro o cinco asientos en el senado.

Aunque el Presidente Coolidge no formuló comentario alguno, las personas que están cerca de él no negaban que se hallaba sumamente contrariado por la derrota de su íntimo amigo personal y político, el senador Butler. Fue éste el único candidato en cuyo favor habló el Presidente durante la campaña, y fue en persona a Massachusetts a votar por él.

Los Barcos Guardacostas Complicados en el Asedio de Llor

BOSTON, Noviembre 3.—Dice esta noche el "Boston American," en una información registrada, que seis barcos guardacostas de Boston han estado transportando licor desde el corazón de barcos licoristas hasta la costa, cobrando el por cada, que es el precio de las uniones obreras. Este hecho provocó una investigación federal, que ha revelado que los barcos guardacostas han estado efectivamente transportando carga de contrabando, y que sus oficiales tienen participación en los negocios de los maitines de licor.

Se Frustra Otro Complot para Derrocar a Primo de Rivera

PERPIGNAN (Francia), Noviembre 3.—Ha sido frustrado por la vigilancia de la policía francesa un fogonable complot revolucionario para derrocar, no sólo al gobierno del general Primo de Rivera, sino la monarquía española.

Dice que estaban complicados en la conspiración unos 400 anarquistas italianos y españoles, de los que ya 100 se hallaban en París recuado. Asegura que era el propósito de los conspiradores excitar a los simpatizantes de la autonomía en Cataluña, pues creían que una vez prendida la chispa en dicha provincia, se extendería el fuego revolucionario por toda España.

Corre la versión de que el jefe del tracado movimiento era el coronel Francisco Macías, que fue diputado a cortes en España.

El Juez Blake Pronuncia un Fallo

Breve, pero significativo

La siguiente ha sido la decisión del juez municipal, Blake, pronunciada ayer en el asunto de la señora McPherson. Dicha decisión es tan notable por su brevedad, como por su prolijidad lo fueron las audiencias:

Lo que tiene que determinar este tribunal no es si son culpables o inocentes las personas que aquí han comparecido acusadas por el fiscal, y por lo tanto, el tribunal no decide esa cuestión, que incumbe al jurado popular. Con todo, a este tribunal se le pide que determine si han sido cometidos o no los delitos de que se acusa a estos reos, y si existe causa suficiente para creer que dichos reos los hayan cometido.

"Causa suficiente" es una expresión que significa y ha significado siempre "causa razonable" o "probable". Esta implica un conjunto de circunstancias capaces de hacer que un hombre de prudencia y precaución ordinaria crea y tenga en conciencia una fuerte sospecha que las personas acusadas son culpables.

Tras conferenciar examen de todas las pruebas presentadas ante el tribunal, y prescindiendo que los delitos mencionados en la acusación, a saber: Conspiración criminal para cometer actos perniciosos para la moralidad pública, para eludir y evadir la justicia e impedir la debida aplicación de las leyes del estado de California, según reza el capítulo primero; y conspiración para violar el artículo 134 del Código Penal del Estado de California, titulado "Preparación de Fiestas Públicas" según el capítulo segundo; y, además, conspiración criminal para cometer el delito de soborno de jurado, delitos que son todos felonías, han sido cometidos, y hay causa suficiente para creer que los reos aquí presentes son culpables de ellos, ordeno que comparezcan a responder de los mismos, y se le señale a cada reo una fianza de $2500.

HOME SAFETY URGED IN DRIVE

National Council Conducting Extensive Campaign

Organization Active Along Many Lines

Millions of Posters Given Out During Year

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, NOV. 3. (Exclusive). More than 9,000,000 safety posters have been distributed during the past year by members of the National Safety Council for whom some forty new and different illustrated bulletins were issued every month. Safety practice pamphlets now number eighty-three separate treatises on the fundamentals of engineering practice. These are edited by a conference committee of seventy-five safety engineers.

The consultation service of the Council has answered more than 6000 requests for information during the year. More than 40,000 books, pamphlets, clippings, photos, blueprints, and the like were sent to members asking for special information. Twenty-nine exhibits were sent to various association meetings and expositions. Films and slides have been supplied to members throughout the world.

The Council at present has more than 4200 active members and has affiliated safety organizations in sixty-six different cities. The gross revenue of the Council amounted to more than $500,000, most of which was devoted to safety work in factories, shops, and other industrial establishments.

These are the high lights in the report on the campaign to reduce the death toll from accidents in the United States which last year reached the appalling total of 90,000.

Members of the Council are assisting in the formation of forty-four of the national standard safety codes. It will also be announced. Editors of employees' magazines are receiving a special educational service for publication in their periodicals.

All of the industrial sections have held executive committee meetings and most of them have assembled at special regional conferences. The engineering section held eighteen district meetings. Eighteen industrial sections furnished special service to members, in addition to the heating, engineering, public safety, plant publications, and employees' benefit associations.

WIDE SCOPE OF CAMPAIGN

The intensive campaign that is being waged for accident prevention covers almost every activity of the individual, at home, at work, at play, or in moving from one place to another. During the year the public safety division of the Council has issued numerous new leaflets on home safety, winter sports, automobile driving, community safety programs, and such. A public safety advisory committee, composed of national leaders has been formed, and a special five-year drive is now projected that involves the raising of a new fund of $1,000,000 which public spirited citizens and companies will be asked to contribute.

The education division, through the services of four trained specialists, has made hundreds of new contacts with school systems throughout the country, issued several booklets, distributed a monthly magazine, and cooperated with various national educational institutions in the circulation of appropriate literature.

BOOKLET DISTRIBUTED

Distribution on a large scale of the booklet entitled, "Safety at Home," is being continued. Many people may not realize that deaths from accidents in homes total a serious figure. However, in January, 1925 such fatalities averaged almost ninety daily and in the closing months of that year the daily average was more than fifty. For the first month of the present year the daily figure was slightly under fifty. It rose to about sixty-five in February and March, but dropped off then until the daily average for June and July was around forty. The total number of deaths in home accidents reported to the National Safety Council during the last fiscal year was 1750, while 3192 persons were injured more or less seriously.

A series of four-page lesson outlines on fire prevention has been issued by the Council. These comprise a course in safety instruction in industrial fire prevention, and they have been used particularly by the community councils in their school activities.

During the year, also, a six months' campaign was conducted in the art departments of 150 high schools throughout the country, and more than 1800 original posters were contributed.

COLLEGE TRAINING FOR SAFETY

The extent to which safety educational work is being carried may be seen in the fact that New York University has just inaugurated a collegiate course in accident prevention, the first of its kind, for the training of industrial safety engineers and directors of public safety campaigns.

The course is being given with the cooperation of the American Museum of Safety and all lectures dealing with any phase of mechanical engineering are to be given at the museum where the students may get acquainted with hundreds of safety devices and appliances and witness the safe operation of numerous machines once known as man-killers and man-murders, but now harmless.

The first class to take this course consists of seventy men and five women. It is stated, its personnel includes industrial executives, insurance inspectors, claim agents, bus transportation directors, safety council secretaries, industrial safety engineers, and one physician particularly interested in accident prevention. The unusual character of this enrollment is matched by the method of instruction. No textbooks are used in the course and four instructors instead of one will present each subject.

At the Museum of Safety lectures are delivered by such men as W. Graham Cole, safety engineer of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and former safety engineer of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation; C. W. Price, formerly general manager of the National Safety Council, under whose direction the new course in accident prevention is being given at the university; and Rufus D. Smith, director of the extramural division of the University.

Communications received both by New York University authorities and by the Museum of Safety since this first course was announced show that hundreds of men and women in various parts of the country are anxious to equip themselves for the new professions of industrial safety engineering and public accident prevention.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels. There is no need of having a complexion—dark rings under the eyes—pimples—a bilious face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you that 90 per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel, and gave it to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets create in their action just the natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color—24¢ and 60¢—Advertisement.

LOCAL CONTESTS SETTLED IN TUESDAY'S VOTING

How Southern Counties Registered Opinions on Men and Matters at General Election

Practically all of the few contests of local nature have been settled by the incomplete and unofficial count of the ballots cast in Tuesday's election. Few if any surprises accompany the results and the general outcome were in many cases clearly indicated by the vote in the primaries last August. Like candidates asking for office the fate of most of the State propositions were forecast accurately before the election by those in position to judge the result.

Following is a resume of the contests supplied by Times correspondents in the various county seats:

RIVERSIDE COUNTY

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 3.—Perry A. Winder tonight was pulling up on E. E. Smith in the race for County Superintendent of Schools, the only contest in yesterday's election for county office. Smith, who was appointed to succeed Ira C. Smith, who resigned just before the August primaries, led by a large majority in Riverside city, where schools, however, were ahead in the county precincts, and his vote was growing larger as the "back country" precinct reports began flooding into the County Clerk's office. The unofficial count tonight gave Smith a margin of 221 but more than half the county was yet to be heard from. In Riverside city a lively fight was waged between John S. Kimball and George Oeb for the office of City Engineer. Kimball, apparently a defeated by a little more than 800 votes.

Both Riverside city and county voted strongly "dry." Elliott is running short of a neck-and-neck race with the result in doubt. Elliott's campaign here was conducted solely on the "wet and dry" issue, with many Republican voters following for the Democratic candidate.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 3.—Santa Barbara voters in the election held yesterday filled but four offices, those of two justices of the peace and two constables. W. H. Wheaton and C. E. George were re-elected justices, while Peter B. Clark and Thomas P. O'Connell were re-elected constables.

T. R. Finley, Democrat with opposition, was elected to the Assembly, having obtained the Republican nomination. The only other change made in the Santa Barbara county line-up was the election of F. Hunt as County Clerk. He succeeds C. A. Hunt, who will retire, and had no opposition.

Counting in Santa Barbara county was slow, some precincts not being finished until this afternoon.

TULARE COUNTY

VISALIA, Nov. 3.—Official returns are struggling to climb out of the sea of ballots resulting from yesterday's election, although apparently only 80 per cent of the returns have been received. The election was a close one, with the county divided between the two main parties.

With but two Visalia precincts yet to be heard from, the county is divided between the two main parties. The election was a close one, with the county divided between the two main parties.

Glendale Youth Puts Much
Vigor Into Phantom Football Game

GLENDAL, Nov. 3.—Obad Luma, the 15-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. P. O. Lucas, 1251 North Cedar street, went to bed last night suffering from a slight attack of football fever, and in his dreams he staged an entire game that was sufficiently exciting to suit the most rabid fan to be called off, however, when young Lucas swung a desperate kick at a phantom ball and landed a sickening thud with his bare toes on the wall of his bedroom, putting that foot out of commission temporarily.

SPECTACULAR GAS-WELL FIRE

Flames Leap Sixty Feet from Ground

Driller Has Marvelous Escape from Death

Tools and Rigging Torn Into Twisted Mass

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 3.—One of the biggest and most spectacular gas fires in history raged uncontrolled for hours fourteen miles southwest of Wasco last night and today from the gaping mouth of Milham Exploration Company's Kern No. 1 test well in Goose Lake area. The flames leaped in a wide column sixty feet into the air. The gaser extinguished itself by sanding up at 6 o'clock this morning. A short time later the well opened up with a second tremendous gas flow and caught fire again, but it was held in an hour.

The well came in and caught fire with a thundering roar at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. With the aid of an adjacent oil tank and a water tank had exploded from the terrific heat. Three automobiles owned by members of the drilling crew were burned to a cinder. The 135-foot steel rig was torn to pieces and a driller escaped by a miraculous chance when caught half-way up the steel tower as the well came in. He is Sam James.

James was working in the rigging with a fellow-driller, B. O. Brown, on the floor, pulling the string of tools. T. B. Bona, head driller, was in Bakersfield at the time, and three helpers stood outside the rig. Without warning the rigging exploded and 400 feet of it was vomited from the fifteen-inch casing mouth in a shower of blue mud and gas. With a roar like a wake, the rigging was blown to pieces and the steel tower was ripped out of the top of the derrick, to fall in a tangled mass 100 feet away. James escaped by a narrow margin.

Mrs. Stevens has not failed to vote at any general election or important election in the last five years and is believed to be the oldest woman voter in California. The last few years she has been so active as formerly and the community was surprised when she appeared at the polls. At a party in honor of her 100th birthday Mrs. Stevens danced a jig, but more recently has been on account of injuries received in an automobile accident.

Not to Blame, Says Coroner's Jury in Inquest

POMONA, Nov. 3.—Holding that the accident in which Morris Isbell, 33, of 315 North Myrtle place, sustained fatal injuries last Saturday night at the height of downtown Halloween festivities, from which he died early Sunday morning, when struck by a machine driven by C. G. Rogers, 1731 West Kingsley avenue, this city, was unavoidable, the coroner's jury in session this morning at the Patterson, Hotchkiss and Moore mortuary, completely exonerated Rogers from all responsibility.

According to police reports and testimony of witnesses, Isbell had stopped his machine in the second line of parking while he went across Second street in the middle of the block between Park avenue and Goode street to get a newspaper. He stepped without warning directly in front of Rogers' car and was hurled into the air. The car was moving at an estimated speed of ten miles and hour. Oust Entire Board of Directors

Election Climax of Fight of
Many Years

PASADENA, Nov. 3.—Tabulation today of returns from 100 out of Pasadena's 121 precincts shows that local voters yesterday rejected the propositions to establish a Mayor and Council-form of municipal government here and to elect a representative form of the present City Manager system by a margin of more than two to one.

At the same time that they gave their support to the City Manager system, the voters swept the present Board of City Directors out of the City Hall by giving a strong affirmative vote to the proposition which calls for the election next April of a complete new board of seven members.

The new Directors will be nominated from seven districts as opposed to the present plan of choosing them at large, but the nominees will be voted on by the city as a whole. The force of the latter, backed by three City Directors now in office, were completely outvoted in the election. GUN ARREST BOOTLEGGERS

Pasadena Officers Battle With Man Found Making Brandy
From Honey

PASADENA, Nov. 3.—Philip Edwards, 48 years of age, asserted bootlegger, is in the City Jail today facing four probable liquor charges as the result of his arrest early this morning, following a pitched battle between himself and detectives who raided his premises at 1662 Glen avenue early this morning.

According to Detective Sergeant Beal, Beck and Hayden, they went into Edwards' house and found him in the act of distilling brandy from honey. Edwards shouted, "I have to kill me to take me," and was shot.

While Beal struggled with the man, he shot a gang of twenty-two Mexicans in the rear of his house. "Get your guns and kill the man," he shouted, "I have to kill me to take me," and was shot.

By the time police reinforcements arrived, Beal had subdued Edwards after a fight in the back yard. The detective had half of his fingers torn off and the prisoner suffered cuts and bruises about the head and arms.

Forty gallons of honey brandy worth 700 pounds of honey were confiscated by the police. In police court today Edwards pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal possession of liquor and was granted a jury trial. It was stated that there will be further charges of illegal manufacture and sale of liquor and retaining an officer.

Nature has doubly blessed San Diego

*~with the charm
that climate alone
can never impart*

NATURE was kind to all Southern California in the matter of climate, but she gave some of her choicest gifts of location, scenery and environment to San Diego—
Gem of California.

From her exact geographical position San Diego inherits her wonderfully cool summers and warm, soft winters. And, due to her proximity to wonderful beaches, convenient inland bays and mountains, she has a distinctive charm that is as unmistakable as the scent of a rose or the clean, salty tang of the breeze from the Pacific which lies at her doorstep.

Frankly, this charm is difficult to describe in words, but you get it as soon as you step off the train, or as you top the hill at La Jolla, coming by stage or by automobile. You get it from the deck of your steamer as you round the old Spanish Light at the harbor's entrance or as you stroll along Coronado's famous silver strand.

In a wonderfully picturesque setting lies San Diego! Built around the 1400-acre Balboa Park where you will see tropical verdure twelve months in the year, San Diego is truly a "lovely place to live in!"

San Diego, itself, is a park! A city whose residential district is a procession of blossomcovered dwellings, palm-lined drives and tree-festooned avenues. A city whose public buildings —devoted to the arts and sciences, to museums, to education and to music—are architecturally beautiful. Many of these appear as though they were built to fit the Great Creator's plan which provided so much loveliness for this favored community.

Those who come here from densely crowded cities are always pleased with our freedom from congestion and the opportunities we have for sight-seeing and outdoor recreation. To get a view, for instance, from the crest of Point Loma (the extreme Southwest corner of the United States)—is alone worth a trip to San Diego.
500 feet below you is the harbor and the U. S. Government Naval and Military Aviation stations—just beyond is Coronado's fine 13-mile beach and the famous hotel. Across the Bay, a yachtsman's paradise, is the city of San Diego, sparkling in the sunlight. Beautiful Mission Valley is to your left and in the distance are the mountains of Mexico. Back of you, rimming the horizon, are the towering peaks of the Coast Range.
Go where you will, San Diego's scenic panorama is

CONFIRM CHAIN STORE MERGER

Safeway Consolidated With Two Skaggs Concerns

Welding of Three Companies Effective July 1, Last

New Corporation Operates in Ten Western States

Recent reports from Fresno and other Coast cities of a proposed consolidation of the Skaggs United Stores Company, the Skaggs Cash Stores Company, and the Safeway Stores, Inc., were today in a joint announcement issued by E. M. Skaggs, L. L. Skaggs and W. R. H. Weidman, president of the Safeway organization. The welding of the three chains, according to the announcement, will result in the largest grocery concern operating west of the Mississippi River, and will be effective as of July 1, 1926. Approximately 800 stores, meat markets and bakeries, employing about 4500 persons, are affected.

M.B. SKAGGS.

While no one connected with the consolidation would make public details of the financing of the project, it was said in banking circles yesterday that upward of $200,000 was involved in the deal. The net assets of the companies involved, according to Edward Dale, vice-president of the new organization, are in excess of $5,000,000. Mr. Dale also declared that the estimated total annual sales of the units involved were said to approximate $200,000,000, and that it is the intention of the organization to extend rapidly the present scope and volume of the business.

Mr. Dale also asserted the new organization was considering the erection shortly of two buildings, one in San Pedro and the other in Burbank, as an estimated cost of $200,000.

While officials refused last night to divulge the capitalization of the organization, it was understood that plans are under way for the formation of a parent holding corporation, through which the subsidiaries will function, and that details of the methods of financing proposed will be announced later by the corporation's fiscal agents.

Units involved in the merger are situated in ten western states and include 784 retail grocery stores, 122 meat markets, six bakeries and other activities of a similar nature, according to the announcement, which pointed out that the three chains have been and are now operating in noncompeting territory.

COVER WIDE TERRITORY

The two Skaggs groups, Dale explained, are located in and around San Francisco and in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys in California, and in most of the other states and towns of the other nine states, which are Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, Wyoming, Colorado and Nebraska.

OIL RESERVE POLICIES VARY

Wide Range in Charges Against Earnings for Depletion and Depreciation; Union and United Extremes

BY EARLE E. CROW

In keeping with the popular tendency to carefully scrutinize the financial policies of corporations, it is interesting to observe how the oil companies pass an examination on the important question of depletion and depletion provisions. Because of the character of the industry, religious adherence to a fixed policy along liberal lines is requisite, and the policy followed goes a long way toward ear-marking the financial strength of the various companies.

Sometimes the charge is made that oil companies, as well as others operating in different industries, are inclined to report depreciation and depletion provisions as a variable susceptible to fluctuations in line with the trend of earnings. The suspicion is entertained that "window dressing" of this kind is practiced when it is necessary to report an increase in the amount of earnings available for the common stock.

RATES FIXED

A study of comparative annual and quarterly reports shows the rate of depreciation for this charge. The ratio of depletion and depletion provision to gross earnings varies widely in each year and in each quarter. In the third quarter of this year, when the first effects of the gasoline war were felt, the depletion provision in order to make a good showing for the stock market. The reports, however, show that, if this impulse did arise, it was successfully beaten down.

The wide range in the percentage of gross earnings that is segregated for depletion and depletion, it is evident that a marked divergence of opinion exists within the industry on the proper policy to follow. The higher the percentage, the stronger the company, for all plants must be replaced some time, and new oil lands must be constantly added to offset the depletion of old areas.

As might have been anticipated from the general knowledge of the company's policies, the Union Oil Company adheres to the most severe depletion and depletion charge out earnings. For 1925, the provision out earnings was 15 per cent.

The Safeway Stores operate entirely in California, and consist of 450 units, of which 275 are in Los Angeles. The Skaggs units, Mr. Dale asserted, had been doing a larger volume of business than the Safeway Stores, and in the south as the Safeway Stores with a home office here.

Reason for the merger, the announcement said, is "to further the reaching effort toward effecting greater economies in food distribution by assuring to one organization sufficient volume to warrant such consolidation of manufacture and warehouse as might otherwise be unobtainable." Officials of the concern also pointed out that, "as a matter of good business, the benefits of all such economies will be passed on to the consumer as they are realized."

No change as personnel of the concern involved is contemplated, the announcement said. M. B. Skaggs will be president of the consolidated companies, L. L. Skaggs and Mr. Dale will continue to act as directing heads of reorganizing operations, and Mr. Weidman will assist in the financing and the formulation of policies. Edward M. Selby of Los Angeles, and W. R. Griswold of Oakland are the attorneys for the new organization.

The Safeway group operates stores from Bakersfield to San Diego. The system was originally known as the Sun Selby Company, and was founded by Selby about twelve years ago with his first unit located on South Figueroa street. The Safeway system, took over the Selby stores about eighteen months ago.

Gain Expected in Backlog of Steel Company

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (P)—Contrary to earlier expectations that the United States Steel Corporation for October would show a decrease, it is now believed in well-informed quarters that another increase probably will be reported owing to large rail contracts placed during the month.

Another factor making an increase possible is that October deliveries are not expected to reach the monthly average of 1,100,000 tons in August and September. The gain in unfilled orders for September was $1,174 tons.

The Bank of England yesterday got $200 in gold from the Cape. A point which the stock market failed to take into consideration today is the increased demand for gold. Of the $200,000 bar gold in the market, the Continent absorbed practically the whole, and the balance is being taken up by the rise in the quotation to the level of the Bank of England's selling price. The chief buyers were Germany and Belgium.

The position of German exchange, which is believed to be due partly to her borrowing abroad, is becoming embarrassing. French francs closed strong at 148 1/2 to the pound sterling.

Sales through the California Cattleman's Association continued at steady prices during the past week with more active buying, the weekly report of the association reveals. OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD G. KEGLEY

Field reports that were partly confirmed by Associated officials yesterday indicated that the Associated Oil Company has found important showings of oil in its Cypress wildcat well in the Hyde Park district about 4300 feet.

The Cypress well is said to have penetrated about forty-five feet of oil sand, just below a twelve-foot stratum of shale. L. J. King, vice-president and general manager of the company, admitted yesterday that the well had found some oil sand below 4300 feet, but asserted that he did not believe it amounted to as much as a forty-five feet, and in his judgment was not sufficient to be considered a commercial prospect.

Mr. King said that the well is down 4400 feet and is drilling ahead.

Aimee McPherson Glad of Chance to Confront Jury in Showdown

make no definite statement on the reported move.

The official considered the move on the probability that difficulty would be encountered in obtaining a jury for the case which has occupied a prominent place in the public mind since last May.

QUICKLY RETIRES

A deep silence pervaded the crowded courtroom as Judge Blake returned to his bench after a short recess, following the closing of the attorneys' arguments, to read his decision holding Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Wiseman for trial by jury in Superior Court.

He retired from the bench immediately after reading the decision and refused admittance to all within his chambers.

The evangelist seemed stunned for a moment by the court's order. Her mother smiled. Mrs. Wiseman, Carmel's mother, exposed by The Times, appeared unconcerned and clasped gaily with those about her.

Mrs. McPherson, attired in the white dress and hat she wore during the last days of the hearing, left her seat at the counsel table at once and began making her way to the door through the crowd.

"This is enough to make one shiver," was the only comment she was heard to make. Her expression was calm as she walked swiftly from the courtroom to a waiting elevator and disappeared from the Hall of Justice.

At the opening of court, Attorney Gilbert contented himself with a short argument, drawing the court's attention to points he had made in a previously submitted brief, consisting mainly of what he termed "undisputed facts," that Mrs. McPherson disappeared; that she reappeared in a "sensational" manner and that she appeared before the grand jury July 8, last, and testified to a set of facts pertaining to her purported kidnapping.

Mr. Gilbert reviewed the entry of Mrs. Wiseman into the case, pointed out her appearance at Angelus Temple, "connecting herself with the Carmel incident," and her attempts to place her story before the grand jury.

The defense attorney held that the processes of the law by grand jury investigation set in motion to indict "Rose" and "Gieve" were not sufficient to support conspiracy charges, inasmuch as "Rose" and "Gieve" were not proved in existence.

Further, he held that the code provides a penalty for the manufacture of false evidence intended for use in the processes of law. On that foundation he contended that any affidavits made were not for legal purposes, but for "publicity purposes, to clear up the public mind."

Attorney Hahn, appearing for Mrs. Wiseman, offered a short argument

BREVITY OF JUDGE'S DECISION COMES AS SURPRISE IN COURT

The decision of Municipal Judge Blake yesterday in the McPherson case, as remarkable for its brevity as the hearing for its length, was as follows:

The issue presented to this court for decision is not the guilt or innocence of these defendants of the crime charged in the deposition filed in this court, and this court is called upon to determine whether or not the offense or offenses charged have been committed and whether or not there is sufficient cause to believe the defendants committed such offense or offenses.

"Sufficient cause" is and has been construed as "reasonable or probable cause," which means such a state of facts as would lead a man of ordinary caution and prudence to believe and conscientiously entertain a strong suspicion that the persons accused are guilty.

After a full examination of the entire evidence produced in this court and it appearing to me that the offenses in the within deposition mentioned, to-wit: Criminal conspiracy to commit acts injurious to public morals, to prevent and obstruct justice and prevent the due administration of the laws of the State or California in court case, and the conspiracy to violate Section 194 of the Penal Code of the State of California, entitled, "Preparing False Evidence," in count two, and further, a criminal conspiracy to commit the crime of subornation of perjury, all felonies, have been committed, and there is sufficient cause to believe the within named defendants guilty thereof, I order that they be held to answer to the same, and that they be admitted to bail in the sum of $2500 each. The bail heretofore deposited will stand.

In which he included his client with Mrs. McPherson and her mother, declaring "they are all guilty and should be held to answer."

Here Mr. Keyes digressed from the record of the hearing and disclosed the dramatic scene in the grand jury room last July when Mrs. McPherson appeared to tell her story of being kidnapped.

"I cannot forget," he said, "the impressive manner in which Mrs. McPherson swore to tell the truth with the oath 'So help me, God' and the impressive way she uttered those words—'So help me, God'."

Mr. Keyes recalled Ormiston, who he declared had "not the courage to face the court and the world," for sending the "Miss X" affidavit, which was read and recorded in the grand jury. He stressed the fact that the "Miss X" affidavit was one instrument not used for "publicity purposes" and that it became a part of the county's legal machinery.

PLOT ASSERTED

Mr. Keyes declared that an "agreement" was made and a conspiracy formed, "to defraud the courts, the grand jury and the District Attorney, when Mrs. Wiseman was brought into the case at Angelus Temple."

"It outrages human intelligence to believe that Mrs. McPherson was kidnapped," Mr. Keyes said. "Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy committed perjury, then coached Mrs. Wiseman and we now have subornation of perjury."

Mr. Gilbert arose in rebuttal, and while appealing to the court to use "cold, hard common sense" in delivering a decision, charged the prosecution with the client with "vicious, damnable and outrageous" tactics.

He charged Dist. Atty. Keyes with violation of the oath of secrecy as a grand jury official in disclosing the episode of truth, disclosing the episode of Mrs. McPherson taking the oath of truth, and accused him of "slipping out of the record to find reasons to hold" his client.

His last appeal to the court argued that Mrs. McPherson's character be not "shattered and besmirched" by Mrs. Wiseman's testimony that she had been kidnapped, paid and coached by Mrs. McPherson and her mother to stage the Carmel hoax.

At the conclusion of the argument, Judge Blake called a short recess, after which he returned to the bench to read the order which held the three women to answer to a Superior Court jury.

After Judge Blake had announced his decision, Dist. Atty. Keyes outlined points which he contended testimony at the hearing had substantiated and proved the evangelist's kidnapping story a myth.

The points are:

- (1) That on or before May 6, Mrs. McPherson conceived the idea of running away with her former radio operator, Ormiston.
- (2) That on the night of May 9 she met Ormiston at the Alexandria Hotel and they plotted their proposed flight.
- (3) That she provided money for Ormiston to go to Oakland on May 11 and from there to Carmel, where he rented the Benedict seaside bungalow on May 14.
- (4) That he returned to Los Angels on May 15, went in hiding at the Clark Hotel, where he met Mrs. McPherson the morning of May 18.

(5) That he checked out of the hotel about 1 p.m., Mrs. McPherson disappeared from the beach at Ocean Park about 8 p.m., and they met and traveled in Ormiston's automobile to Carmel, arriving there about 4 a.m. the following morning.

(6) That they remained there until May 20, when, fearing exposure, they traveled southward, being intercepted at Santa Barbara, learning by that experience that Mrs. McPherson could not return openly.

(7) That Mrs. Kennedy, knowing her daughter to be alive, caused hundreds of temple workers to carry on a search for her daughter's supposedly drowned body, employing divers and aviators to enhance the illusion, and that at least two men lost their lives in the search.

(8) That later Ormiston investigated a scheme to make it appear that Mrs. McPherson had been kidnapped by plotting an approach to the late E. A. McKinley, and offering to produce her for heavy ransom.

(9) That pursuant to the plan Mrs. McPherson traveled to Aguaprieta, Son, Mex., across the international line from Douglas, Ariz., walked into the Mexican village, declared she had been kidnapped, but had escaped from her captors, "Rose" and "Gieve" and walked seventeen miles across the desert with the thermometer at 120 deg.

(10) That in an effort to "influence the public mind" to believe her story, she conspired with Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman to stage the Carmel hoax, caused her to sign false affidavits declaring his companion at Carmel was a "Miss X."

GILBERT SON RECOVERING FROM HURTS

Youth Injured in Crash of Car Near San Mateo Ready to Quit Hospital

By a trick of fate the automobile accident which cost the life of G. H. McGuire of Long Beach near San Mateo Monday night only caused scratches and bruises to William Gilbert, son of W. I. Gilbert, chief of counsel for Aimee Temple McPherson and her mother, who was heard yesterday.

Gilbert was taken to the Mills Memorial Hospital at San Mateo, recovering from his injuries, and was discharged yesterday.

Gilbert was suffering from serious injuries. Gilbert, Sr., said he was in touch with his son's physician late yesterday, however, and was informed the boy is suffering from bruises and lacerations and is expected to be discharged from the hospital today.

The tragedy of the accident comes home to the parents of McGuire, who was fatally injured. McGuire was a student at Leland Stanford University and was accompanied by Gilbert, who was returning to school from the Stanford-University of Southern California football game.

Mrs. Gilbert and her daughter are at the hospital with the injured youth.

Keyes Praises Hahn for Help During Hearing

Attorney S. S. Hahn, counsel for Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Bell, co-defendant in the Aimee Temple McPherson case, yesterday was commended by Dist. Atty. Keyes for gaining his client's confession to a public service and performed his sworn duty as an officer of the court in advising his client, Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Bell, to tell the truth about her connection with the case, which contained some of Mrs. McPherson's clothing.

"It was done plainly with the thought of influencing the decision of the jury who must triumph, trusting that because of his youth and lack of experience he might be influenced thereby," it was charged.

HOAX FIGURE GETS OFF IN CHECK CASE

Mrs. Wiseman Charge Put Out of Court as Result of Aid in McPherson Hearing

The check charge against Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Bell, who confessed to her part in the McPherson case, was dropped by the court yesterday by agreement between the state prosecutor and defendant's attorney, R. E. Hahn, attorney for Mrs. Wiseman, presented the motion and Dept. Dist. Atty. Heinicke concurred. The $2500 bond was not discharged at the time, leaving the case so it could be reset if desired.

The case is one in which the woman is charged with having issued a check without having sufficient funds in the bank at the time. It is in Municipal Judge Ballard's court and has been continued several times, coming up again yesterday on former continuance.

The check charge has no connection with her part in the McPherson case except that its filing and resultant detention of Mrs. Wiseman precipitated her confession that she perpetrated a hoax. With the backing of Aimee Temple McPherson, she asserted, she went before the public with the story that she and not Mrs. McPherson was the woman with Kenneth G. Ormiston in a secluded cottage at Carmel-by-the-Sea during a part of the time that Mrs. McPherson said she was held by kidnappers.

Arrest of Mrs. Wiseman followed an expose by The Times of the hoax, to which she then confessed, and which was followed by official action in the McPherson case.

PASTOR ASKS VINDICATION

the preaching of the Four-square Gospel.

"Since that date the world knows history—the great outpouring of revival which has followed and which continues to this hour, the building of the great Bible school adjoining the thousands of members of the hundreds of Bible students, the publications, while the people of God were rejoicing on the one hand, this was bound to create some sense of jealousy and animosity among other elements."

"History is but repeating itself. Were I a man I would be stoned or imprisoned as many before me have been. With a woman, however, it is different; an attack on your character is the first thing the devil thinks of."

"I have made enemies—some of them among members of the clergy in this city. They are among the lesser caliber, however, jealous preachers who never have and never could build a church. Then there are enemies of the underworld, angered at me because of the relations I have carried on against booze, dope, sin and the dance halls."

TRIAL WELCOMED

"Again I reiterate we welcome the Superior Court trial and desire that it shall take place at the earliest possible moment, assured that nothing but complete vindication can result for truth must triumph."

"And when all the lies and innuendoes, the false witnesses and planted evidence of this diabolic and absurd attack have died away, the foundations and the four corner-stones of this glorious Gospel shall remain more unshaken and immovable than ever before."

In another statement, issued at Chief Defense Counsel Gilbert's office under Mrs. McPherson's name, an attack was made on Dist. Atty. Keyes, charging him with withholding evidence until after the preliminary hearing to influence the decision of the judge.

She referred to the announcement of the contents of a trunk seized in New York, said to be Kenneth G. Ormiston's, which Mrs. Keyes declared contained some of Mrs. McPherson's clothing.

"It was done plainly with the thought of influencing the decision of the judge who must triumph, trusting that because of his youth and lack of experience he might be influenced thereby," it was charged.

Flames Burn Selves Out in Orange County

New Outbreak Reported in Elizabeth Lake Area

Fall of Winds Aids Crew on Modjeska Point

As fires which have burned in the Cleveland National Forest, Orange County, reached the point last night when they were burning themselves out for lack of new timber stands to attack, County Forester Spence Turner turned his attention to Elizabeth Lake Canyon, north of Saugus, where a new blaze broke out late yesterday.

The flames in the Santa Ana range, centering in Santiago, Silverado and Trabuco Canyons, had been burning since Sunday night and at times threatened destruction to cabins, as well as heavy masses of trees and brush. In all it was estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 acres in the Cleveland reserve have been scorched.

FLAMES CONTROLLED

Late yesterday, whipping winds endangered the home of Mrs. Helene Modjeska but the menace died with the fall of the winds and firefighters caught the blaze to a triangle in which it was confined. Unless high winds ruin existing calculations, the fire is expected to extinguish itself today.

Early yesterday the fire ate their way up White Cross Canyon within half a mile of Modjeska Peak and over the ridge into Santiago Canyon. Lookouts who had been stationed there caught the spread in time to defeat it.

A lookout on Santiago Peak reported late in the day that he could see what appeared to be extensive fire near Escondido and Ramona in San Diego county but said they are out in the Cleveland reserve.

Associated Press dispatches received here late last night reported a new place in Lyons Valley, thirty-five miles east of San Diego which had burned over 2000 acres and was threatening ranch homes at Honey Springs. The flames also were reported driving into the Otay watershed after destroying considerable pine and oak timber. The county fire warden, with twenty-five men was fighting the fire.

West of Escondido, near Del Rio, a fire thought to be under control revived yesterday, but it was turned into an area already burned over and all further danger there was considered averted.

COMMUNITY CHEST GIVEN EDISON AID

Inventor Says Local Plan Essence of Golden Rule in Its Service Aims

Thomas A. Edison yesterday added his endorsement of the appeal of the Community Chest in Los Angeles to the list of endorsements already received from famous men. The appeal, which opens next Tuesday, is for $2,200,144.25. President Coolidge and Secretary of Commerce Hoover both have sent telegrams endorsing the Chest.

In Edison's letter to Joseph Scott, campaign chairman, he said: "Personally I regret that the word 'charity' has ever been used in connection with the Community Chest plan, for after all, its aim is 'service,' which is the very core and essence of the Golden Rule when we come to the last analysis."

"I heartily agree with the plan in general, for it gives to the poorest an opportunity to participate in doing good to those who need help. I wish that your annual campaign may be highly successful."

The budget asked by the Chest is for the support of 154 welfare relief and charitable agencies in Los Angeles in 1927. The Chest, while it collects and disburses funds and provides administration, in itself does no charitable work.

Debate Team Trip Planned at Occidental

Prospect of a debating trip as far east as Ohio is spurring Occidental students to hard work for team positions this fall, according to Prof. Charles F. Lindsey, head of the department of speech education. Two men and their coach will take the trip at the end of January to meet at least ten college and university teams.

Schools dated thus far include University of Arizona, Marquette University, Beloit College, Wisconsin; Park College, Missouri; Macalester College, Minnesota; Ohio Wesleyan University, Oberlin College, Wittenberg College and Ohio State University in Ohio; University of Utah and University of California.

Don Tyler, winner of the national Constitution contest two years ago, is a leading candidate for the team. Four years ago the trip itinerary included Maine and two years ago Milwaukee was the farthest eastern point visited.

BACK BROKEN IN FALL; PAINTER NEAR DEATH

Tom F. Hart, 58 years of age, a painter living at 1509 Magnolia avenue, suffered a broken back yesterday when he fell fifteen feet from a scaffold on a house at 605 South Catalina street. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where Police Surgeon Dorn stated he has only a slight chance to recover.

PARAMOUNT CREATES NEW STAR

Gary Cooper Wins Stellar Honors by "Barbara Worth," Norma Shearer Continues to Comedy for M.-G.-M.; Theda Bara Catches a Burglar

GARY COOPER

While Barbara Worth was busy being won, a young actor in the picture was also busy winning a contract.

The magic wand that sways the destinies of those who come to Hollywood has been again G. A. R. Cooper, young, tall and handsome, who stepped before the camera for the first time less than six months ago, awakens this morning to find himself a full-fledged star.

The quiet, unassuming but extremely personable Gary first startled the film world and himself when he was signed by Paramount as a featured player after his first conspicuous performance on the screen in "The Winning of Barbara Worth."

Now Famous Players-Lasky executives are so strongly sold on his potentialities that B. P. Schulberg, West Coast associate producer, yesterday announced that he will be elevated at once to the cherished realm of stardom. Present plans call for Cooper to be starred as a new cavalier of the

LAST WEEKS OF "BEN HUR"

Setting a record unique as a legitimate theater attraction, the Fred Niblo production of "Ben Hur" must end its run at the Biltmore Theater here on the 20th inst.

Beginning Sunday the motion picture will enter upon the final two weeks of the engagement at the legitimate playhouse. It will be followed immediately by the production of "Blossom Time," which will in turn be followed by a succession of theater attractions on tour.

Originally booked in at the Biltmore director, and that she thoroughly liked her story, it seems either that production of the picture will have to be held up, or of the some other star must be assigned to the picture.

Norma Shearer's New Comedy — Norma Shearer won't have to trot down to the drug store for a bottle of glycerine for some time to come. In other words, it looks as though Norma was definitely set for a career as a comedienne.

Theda Bara Captures Thief — It has just leaked out Theda Bara recently caught a burglar. Not with her vampish charms, but by the good old method of catching the thief by the scruff of the neck.

Mr. Braden and I just returned to our Beverly Hills home. My bedroom was dark, and I stepped into somebody standing by my dresser. In the dim light I discerned a figure roughly clad in overalls. I grabbed the intruder by the arm, and what do you think? I knew by the feel of that arm that my burglar was a girl!

Miss Bara made the girl drop her look, which consisted of some furs, an evening dress, and some fine lingerie.

"She was very young and little, and she promised to go straight," continued Miss Bara. "She had just escaped from a reformatory. We learned, and when returned to the place, she again gave the place the slip. So now I am carefully locking my doors and windows when I leave my bungalow."

Exhibitors' Herald's Report — Hollywood is buzzing today over the publication of the Exhibitors' Herald of a list of the sixty best box-office names in pictures, rated in order according to reports by 247 exhibitors throughout the country. A list of 240 names was submitted to the exhibitors who were asked which names drew in the most patrons when displayed at the theaters.

Many astounding surprises resulted from the replies. According to the reports received, Colleen Moore was rated as the best box-office bet in pictures, out-topping even Tom Mix, who is second by twenty-three votes. Fred Thomson proved one of the surprises by coming third, while Harold Lloyd, heretofore credited with being the biggest money-maker in pictures, was fourth, and Hoot Gibson fifth. The second woman on the list and the sixth in rating was Norma Talmadge. Mary Pickford was seventh, six votes ahead of her distinguished husband, Doug Fairbanks, who rated eighth. Next in order were Thomas Meighan, Reginald Denny, Milton Sills, Richard Dix, Lou Chaney, Buck Jones, Norma Shearer, Gloria Swanson, Wallace Beery, Bebe Daniels, Corinne Griffith, Jack Holt, Constance Talmadge, Rin Tin Tin, Jackie Coogan, Charles Chaplin and Richard Barthelmess.

Shirley Mason's New One — So striking a success has "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" scored all over the country that Columbia Pictures has lost no time in signing Shirley Mason to be featured in another special production, "The Wreck," according to Harry Cohn, vice-president. Production was started at the studio yesterday under the direction of Tom Forman. The picture has two of the most personable young men on the screen playing opposite — Malcolm McGregor and Francis MacDonald. No doubt the former was selected because of the hit he scored opposite the petite star in "Don Juan's Three Nights." Others in the supporting cast include Frances Raymond and James Bradbury, Jr.

"The Wreck" marks the return of Tom Forman to directing. A few months ago he surprised the picture world by resuming his original screen position as a leading man in "Koshie and Kitty Kelly," with Viola Dana.

AIR OF CASTILE PERVADES PROGRAM

Kills Club Scores Particularly in Spanish Numbers at Auditorium

A Castilian air pervaded Philharmonic Auditorium last evening when the Kills Club presented a program, which, though it contained a variety of musical offerings, featured two numbers which breathed of the romantic atmosphere of Old Spain. Dudley Buck's dramatic air ballad, "The Voyage of Columbus," was given with an orchestral accompaniment played by thirty-five members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra with Alexander Roman as concert master. This selection is admirably suited to a men's chorus and the Kills Club interpreted it last evening with a verve that made a splendid impression upon an appreciative audience.

A variety of moods are reflected in the piece, which might aptly be called a motion picture in tone, the varying episodes of the composition depicting a series of contrasting scenes and emotions in realistic style. The roles of Columbus and of the priest were sung by Fred McPherson (soprano), and B. L. Brown, baritone, respectively, guest soloists for the occasion. A solo, "In Distant Andalusia," supposedly sung by an officer of Columbus's crew, was rendered by Harold Proctor, tenor, a member of his club. Each of the soloists sang his part well, and shared in the honors accorded a thoroughly successful performance. Minor roles were sung by William Fisher and C. M. Sullivan, also members of the club.

"Manuela," a Spanish serenade, by Mrs. Hennion Robinson, the official accompanist of the club, was given its first presentation at last evening's concert. William Fisher singing the solo part. Mrs. Robinson's composition was written for and dedicated to the Kills Club and its director, J. E. Poulin. The accompaniment was played by the composer, with Miss Dorothy Robinson at the second piano. The song is based upon a poem written by Manuel Phillips of Glendale. A characteristic Spanish rhythm was distinctive of the rendition of the piece, with somewhat modernistic tendency in the harmonies. The performance was well received by the audience.

Ruth Reynolds, mezzo-soprano, was also a guest soloist of the concert, contributing the aria, "Comuna Tu Le Pays" from the opera, "Mignon," by Ambrose Thomas, for which the orchestra furnished the accompaniment.

Three solos with piano accompaniment were also given, among them a lovely impressionistic selection by Orpheus, entitled "The Dreamy Land," "Over the Steppes" by Gretehanian, and "Minor and Major" by C. G. Sprague. Miss Reynolds achieved a good effect in the performance of the several numbers, her singing evincing some very delightful nuances and a sweet quality in the tones.

The first part of the program contained a number of short selections by the club, noteworthy among which, in addition to the "Manuela" already mentioned, were "Allah's Holiday," from an arrangement by Homer Bartlett of Rudolf Friml, "Allah's Holiday," and "A Sonnet from the Portuguese," by Harvey B. Gaul. The concert was the first in a series to be given this winter by the Kills Club, which is now in its thirty-ninth season.

Praise Given Harris in Role of Pa Heller

"The Family Upstairs," which entered its fourth week at the Morocco Sunday afternoon, is considered by many as the best play presented at the Morocco this season. Mitchell Harris' work as Pa Heller has been a favorite with every audience. It is said, "His quaint philosophy and naturalness, and all the amusing scenes with his son Willie bring gales of laughter from the audiences. Jane Morgan, as the wife of Harris, shares in his glory. John Littel and Alma Tell, are the two young lovers."

FILMING STARTS ON "ALIAS THE DEACON"

Yesterday marked the beginning of actual filming of "The Deacon," an adaptation from the stage success, "Alias the Deacon," which Universal is producing with Jean Harlow as the star.

The success achieved by Harlow in "The Old Maid," his first starring vehicle, is said to have resulted in an avalanche of requests from exhibitors throughout the country asking that this character star produce at least two more pictures this year, it is said.

His second starring picture, "The Wrong Mr. Wright," has been completed and will be released in December before the end of the year.

"THREE BAD MEN" IS POPULAR AT RIALTO

"Three Bad Men" continues to break all records at the Rialto. This is its first downtown showing after a six weeks' run at one of the outlying theaters.

George O'Brien and Olive Borden are playing the leading roles and are supported by a cast which includes Lou Tellegen and other popular players.

One of the most interesting scenes of the picture is the land-rush in Wyoming which used over 15,000 people and thousands of horses and hundreds of weapons. The picture was directed by John Ford and took over a year to make.

WILL RETURN TO MAJESTIC

Tula and Ethel Mena Angelus, the petite dancing sisters, who were the feminine drawing card of the "Monkey Business" show at the Majestic Theater here, have been winning their usual plaudits at the Columbia Theater in San Francisco, where "Monkey Business" is playing to crowded houses. However, Michael Cooper announced the return of the show to Los Angeles on the 15th inst., so the girls will soon again be doing their song-and-dance patter on the boards of the Majestic.

SEASTROM ARRIVES

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (Exclusive) Victor Seastrom, director of "The Scarlet Letter," arrived this morning on the Orinholm after several weeks' trip abroad. Mr. Seastrom was accompanied on the trip by his wife and two daughters, who are returning with him. How long the director will remain in New York before he starts for the Coast is not known.

A Limhouse Lady

Dorothy Gish, Who will appear in "London," at the Metropolitan next week. The story was written especially for Miss Gish by Thomas Burke, author of "Limhouse Nights."

X IS UNKNOWN QUANTITY

What is the future of the Vitaphone? Those most closely associated with its first presentation in the West at Grauman's Egyptian Theater are not attempting to answer this query which is voiced hundreds of times a day at the playhouse.

Sid Grauman and Warner Brothers, associated with him in the presentation, are leaving the question as to its possibilities for the imagination of the public after viewing the diversity of demonstration by the instrument itself in the premiere program offered.

Will H. Hays, limhouse's czar, indicates its adaptability to the separate rostrum, when his voice is heard introducing the instrument while he appears on the screen in the opening number.

Pasadena Will Present Third Play by Barry

Said to be as understanding in his interpretation of mature love as with younger emotions, Philip Barry, the American playwright, has been selected by the Pasadena Community Players, which is to be one of their most delightful vehicles, "In a Garden," which opens tonight and will continue until the 13th inst., with Saturday matinees.

Concerned with the problem of a middle-aged writer, anxious to turn to work which he believes may live after him, "In a Garden" will present a picture of two persons—husband and wife—living upon a different plane, speaking a different language which even love can not wholly interpret.

Previous plays of Barry's which the Pasadena Community Players have given for the first time in this vicinity have been "You and I" and "The Youngest."

COMMITTEES NAMED BY ORATORIO SOCIETY

At a meeting last night at the Hotel Alexandria of over 300 lovers of music, the Los Angeles Oratorio Society announced through their president, Mrs. J. T. Anderson, that complete arrangements had been made for the mammoth production of the "Messiah."

John Smallman will conduct, assisted by over sixty selected members of the Philharmonic Orchestra. The soloists will be Richard Martin, tenor; Julia Claussen, contralto; Blythe Taylor, soprano, and Fred Patton, bass.

The advisory board will consist of James G. Warren, chairman; Mrs. Leonard Atherton Irish, Mrs. Caroline B. Rager, Dr. Edgar M. Magnus and Charles C. Drea. The guarantors committee is Dr. Marion Tracie Whitling, chairman; Russell H. Bellard, Gilbert Besenmyer, Betty Schappa, Belle N. Hall, Mrs. Rose Grauman and Margaret Goetz.

SARA SOTHERN WEDS IN GOTHAM

Sara Sothern, former member of the Majestic Stock Company, and who attained considerable success in the role of the little crippled girl in "The Fool," was married in New York recently to Francis Taylor, a local actor. The ceremony was performed at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York.

The marriage to Mr. Taylor was the culmination of a schoolyard romance. Mr. Taylor is connected with the Howard Young Art Galleries of New York City.

The couple will leave the 6th inst., for a honeymoon trip in Europe. Miss Sothern has announced her permanent retirement from the stage.

Following her appearance here in the Channing Pollock drama, "The Fool," Miss Sothern appeared in the New York production, and later in London.

She is the daughter of M. and Mrs. W. S. Warmbrodt of Lawndale, Cal.

FIGUEROA WILL SHOW 'WAR PAINT'

Col. Tim McCoy's Initial Starring Picture Gets Early Release

The Figueroa Theater announces the booking for early showing of "War Paint," the first Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer western production starring Col. Tim McCoy.

This custom-made western promises to provide something new in the type of drama. When it was announced some months ago that M-G-M. would invade the western field with a new class of blood-stirring drama and a new western star there were many who thought the finished article would be a repetition of the ordinary.

"War Paint," starring Col. Tim McCoy, is claimed, will be a revelation in that class of drama. The picture was made in Wyoming and has never faced the camera before.

Tim McCoy is a product of the plains and the mountains of the West. He looks the West and he acts the West. It is said, with a naturalness and frankness.

Pauline Burke and Earl Dine, the "Blum" of "The Big Parade," head the supporting cast and a whole tribe of real Indians take part.

'Great Gatsby' Announced for Publix Theater

"The Great Gatsby" is to be one of the early attractions at the Metropolitan, according to present plans. Based on the widely read novel by F. Scott Fitzgerald, this Famous Players-Lasky film has a notable cast. With Warner Baxter in the title role, the other players include Lois Wilson, Georgia Hale and Neil Hamilton.

"Sweet Rosie O'Grady," with diamond-studded Shirley Mason as the star, comes to the Metropolitan on the 12th inst.

This is a Columbia picture, the second production by that organization to show at the Metropolitan. The first, "The Lone Wolf Returns," featured Earl Dine.

"London," with Dorothy Gish as the star, is the next attraction at the Metropolitan. This is the second picture filmed in England in which Miss Gish has appeared recently. The first, "Neil O'Wyn," played at the Million Dollar several months ago.

Burns-Vorhaus Now at Work on Clara's Picture

Jessie Burns and Bernard Vorhaus, the young screenwriters who prepared "The Marriage" for the screen, have joined Famous Players-Lasky for one of the most important assignments that organization has to offer.

The authors of the story are at work on "Roughhouse Road," which will be the first actual starring vehicle for Clara Bow under the Paramount banner.

Announcement of their signing was authorized by B. F. Schaubert and their choice for the creation of the ultra-modern Bow vehicle concurred in by others of the production staff.

Miss Burns and Mr. Vorhaus began working together about a year ago. They were responsible for the screenplay and scenario creation of "Bright Lights" for M-G-M. "Money Talks" for the same company, "Belle Follies," soon to be produced, "My Wife's Honor" and "Wedlock" or "Marriage," scheduled to be a William Fox special.

Rehearsals Are Progressing on "Rain" at Grove

The list of reservations for the opening of "Rain" at the Orange Grove tomorrow night is to be an impressive one. While many Los Angeles theatergoers saw this play when it was presented at the Biltmore, interest has been renewed in it, the fact that Charlotte Treadway is playing the leading role, the part of Sadie Thompson. Miss Treadway's large following in Los Angeles are looking forward to seeing her interpretation of this difficult role.

Those who have seen rehearsals declare that Miss Treadway will be a sensation and eclipse her portrayal of "Kiki."

Rehearsals are being held day and night at the Orange Grove under the direction of Charles King. Dudley Ayres will play the role of Rev. Davidson.

COMPANY CHANGES NAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (Exclusive) Warner Brothers have changed the name of the company in England through which the Warner pictures are distributed. Known in the past as Vitaphone, Ltd., with headquarters in London, the new name is Warner Brothers Pictures, Ltd.

ON WAY TO COAST

The World's Largest Clothiers Present— 4 entirely new scales of value

There is only ONE World's Largest Clothiers; that's Foreman & Clark. Only ONE chain of 5 big factories behind a chain of UPSTAIRS stores from coast to coast! That's why only ONE such range of clothing values, clothing prices, clothing savings!

Said PRES. COOLIDGE to the Advertising Gentlemen: "Gigantic sales make possible lower prices." And still lower prices (ask Secretary Hoover) when they're backed with gigantic factory production and gigantic distribution savings! See what it does for you here!

Now Suits at $35 outweighing in value, quality and style any F&C $45 suit previously sold at $35

2
Now Suits at $30 which are the equals of any F&C $45 suit previously sold at $35

3
Now Suits at $25 which are the equals of any F&C $40 suit previously sold at $30

4 and now:
These splendid new Fall Suits at $20 are the proved equals, point for point, of any $35 F&C suit sold in previous seasons at $25

Genuine Guaranteed F&C SUITS $20

F&C Guaranteed SUITS at $20 the equals of any $35 value Foreman & Clark clothes sold at $25 in any previous season

"Make it a Million"

That's the goal of this great new line of all-wool suits at $20—to double our half-million wearers!

The chance came, and—we bagged it. More and more men bought F & C clothes at $25, $30, $35 . . . more and more volume poured in . . . more and more savings piled up. We opened two new factories at just about the moment woolen prices broke . . . then we struck! We struck a new note of value at our three famous prices . . . we put richer wools, more hand-tailoring, finer quality into each one! Then we announced it . . . a brand new line at $20! Not cheaper clothes . . . not lower standards, just lower price, made possible, in the phrase of Mr. Coolidge, by "gigantic sales." We dreamed of bringing Foreman and Clark savings and service within the reach of twice as many men!—A million yearly sales instead of half a million! And we're boxing up that dream in cold facts! Ten men are now buying these guaranteed suits for every five who ever bought them before! You'll say "they couldn't help it" when you see what this great manufacturing and-selling combination has done for you at $20.

Trade Upstairs and Save $10.

"Never before - - ?"

Never before such resources combined to save men money on fine clothes—never before such wide, such dynamic response!

"It's all wool, it's hand-tailored it fits right, it looks right, it's guaranteed in black and white . . . and I bought it for $20!" the first 500 men must have said something like that to about 5000 of their friends, for the whirlwind response to these $20 suits goes far beyond any power-of-advertising except word-of-mouth advertising! And how inevitable that is! An all-wool, hand-tailored suit at $20!—in 1926! Brand new style.

Rich new fabric. Smart new pattern! Not half a dozen styles to choose from, but 20 or 25! Not odd lots, but great new stocks. Double breasted, single breasted. All the new tones, half tones and quarter tones of brown, blue, gray, from the clearest looms of the country! Suits so good, suits so surprisingly good . . . that you'd feel there must be some mistake if they weren't by Foreman and Clark!

CUT IN TAXES FORECAST

Madden Expects Heavy Slash

House Committee Head Says $300,000 Income Levy Reduction in Sight

Plans for 1927 Made With Expectation of Immense Treasury Surplus

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Taxes on 1927 incomes will be cut by Congress between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000, Martin B. Madden of Chicago, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, forecast today on the heels of his re-election to Congress.

Citing a predicted treasury surplus this year of $250,000,000, Madden said Congress "undoubtedly will be able to arrange the new tax cut effective in 1928 on 1927 incomes," and declared that he will recommend such a reduction.

Removal of the theater and amusement tax, a further reduction of the surtax, and a cut in the tax on corporations, are among the next steps in the lightening of the nation's tax burden, Madden intimated, although he hesitated to forecast which taxes will receive the benefit of the forthcoming cut.

The Representative would not prophesy what new tax legislation might provide in regard to individual incomes.

The genesis of the quarterly payment plan for income taxes was divulged today by Madden in discussing taxation. A man with a $10,000,000 income tax came to him, the Representative said, and argued that to pay his tax all at once he would have to dump his goods on the market and break the price, with a possible depressing effect on business generally.

The plan prompted Madden to call a hearing of the Appropriations Committee, which devised the quarterly payment plan to relieve sudden strain on the nation's reservoir of credit.

The promised tax reduction, according to Representative Madden, will be made possible by the temporary surplus. With the surplus available to the Treasury at the end of 1926, he suggested, it should be simple to effect savings in 1927 which will justify a reduction along the lines he will recommend.

The Kresges were married in 1924.
